

Tax Bills In Mail; System Saves Money

Real estate tax bills have been placed in the mail and should be reaching all Andover property owners by today, according to Collector-Treasurer Myron H. Muise.

The bills are the first to be on the two-payment system, with the first payment due by Nov. 1, the second by May 1.

The bills reflect a one dollar decrease in real estate taxes this year.

Collector Muise reports that the new system of payments on a twice yearly basis, has represented a saving to the town this past year. For the first time in 20 years, the town has not had to borrow funds in anticipation of taxes, representing a saving of some $80,000.

Austin Gets Reappointment For Three Years

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin Tuesday night was reappointed to a three year term in the town's top administrative position by a unanimous vote of the selectmen, meeting in special session.

The reappointment marked the first time since the beginning of town manager form of government in Andover, that an incumbent was continued in office.

Austin officially completed his five year term on Monday, Sept. 2.

Tuesday night, Selectmen George E. Heseltine moved the reappointment, seconded by Selectman Alan F. French and the vote was unanimous.

Chairman Milton Greenberg presented the board's views on the reappointment in the following statement:

"While much remains to be done in the way of improvement of management of town operations, which both the board and the town manager recognize, and which has been discussed, we believe improvement will come through effective board policy leadership and

Local Contest Primary Lure

A contest for the Democrat nomination as representative for the new all-Andover district, may provide sufficient interest to draw Andover voters to the polls in Tuesday's state primary election.

Atty. Gerald Cohen and Atty. Philip Coppola, are seeking the nomination and have been conducting an active campaign to carry the Democrat banner into the November election against Republican Roger W. Collins and Independent John Cronin.

While there will be 13,465 voters eligible for the election on Tuesday, state primaries have generally found the majority of voters staying at home, rather than taking the time to declare themselves.

This year, a voter may have the party designation removed immediately following the casting of the ballot, by so notifying the town clerk's office or board of registrars.

Also, as an incentive, the absentee voter regulations are different and provide for the application for an absentee ballot up to noon of the day before the election. Also the voter who will not be in Andover on election day, may cast his ballot at the town clerk's office through Monday noon and have it notarized in that office.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter, basing his feelings on past elections, feels the voter turnout on Tuesday will still be light, but good weather, plus local interest, could change the picture he states.

Polls will be open in all six Andover precincts from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

County and congressional offices on the Democrat ballot may also produce a better turnout than in the past.

There is a contest for the unexpired term of the late County Commissioner William J.

Academy Students Prepare For Year

Phillips Academy's new ninth and tenth graders arrived in town yesterday with the tail rains of Hurricane Carmen, several days before classes actually begin on Sept. 11.

The new Andover Academy boys and girls put on old clothes and went out in the damp to begin four days of Outward Bound type orientation exercises in small groups designed to help them get to know their new surroundings and begin to make friends. They come from

Puzzling Situation First Day

As if starting school wasn't a problem in itself, one of the first assignments happened to be working out a puzzle. But, Ona Pritta, who was on hand for the kindergarten orientation program at St. Augustine's school Wednesday morning seems to be coping with the situation quite well and adjusting nicely to the new educational environment which she and thousands of other Andover youngsters will begin in full today.

Timberlane Principal Is Appointed Assistant Here

The Andover School Committee voted Tuesday night to appoint Terrance Holmes, junior high principal in the strike-worn Timberlane School District, New Hampshire, as assistant principal at Andover High.

Chairman Francis Griggs broke the deadlock that occurred at the last session over salary, siding with Committeemen John Lyons and John Wragg in favor of $19,200 to start, plus the increase being negotiated by the Andover Education Association.

Committeemen William Lane and George Olesen had both charged that such a starting salary would disrupt the pay scale, since other assistants, and some principals are making less.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert had recommended $18,300, which, he said, he felt was in "proper perspective" with other administrators.

The committee also ignored Seifert's recommendation that Holmes, if offered the job, come "on board" within 30 days, and voted for him to start "on or before November 4."

Seifert told the board that "you yourselves said the high school needs attention, and we agree. It's very, very important that we get someone aboard as

2 Bike-A-Thon Scheduled

The first annual Greater Lawrence area American Cancer Society's "C-Day" Bike-A-Thon for the fight against cancer is scheduled to take place Saturday, Sept. 14 at the green on the Old Center, North Andover. "C-Day" is when hundreds of cyclists will peddle their healthy way toward various goals to be translated into dollars for fighting cancer in the Greater Lawrence area.

Registration is scheduled to start at 9 a.m., registrants 17 years of age and under, must have their parents signature to be able to participate.

The first cattleyards in the United States stood on land which is now the corner of Market Street and Guest Street in Brighton. In 1775, General George Washington bought fresh meat for his soldiers from these stockyards.

SOUND WAVES used to determine the health of internal organs are displayed on this machine being checked by William Guimond, Ultrasound Technician at Bon Secours Hospital.

Looking For Healthy Sounds

The greeting at Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen may be changed from, "How do you feel," to "How do you sound," based on new diagnostic machinery.

The first complete Diagnostic Ultrasound Service in the Merrimack Valley area has been opened at the hospital. The ultrasound facility is a service of the radiology department.

Diagnostic Ultrasound is a new procedure in which sound waves are used to record images of internal organs. The technique is completely harmless to the patient, causes absolutely no pain or discomfort and can be done without any form of anesthesia.

The principles involved are similar to those used in military application of ultrasound, the SONAR device used in detecting underwater objects.

Very high pitched sound waves are sent through the water and when an object is struck, the sound waves bounce back to the detection device and the reflected sound can be displayed on a screen.

In a similar fashion the diagnostic ultrasound procedure involves moving a small instrument over the surface of the body in the area to be studied. Sound waves are transmitted into the patient, reflect from different surfaces within the body, and then return to the detector. The sound waves are then displayed on a TV screen and the internal organs can be mapped out.

The major advantages of ultrasound studies are its non-invasive character and its ability to obtain detailed information without using X-rays or ionizing radiation.

This revolutionary new technique yields precise information about deep structures in the brain, heart, liver, kidneys and other organs. It is of particular value in pregnancy.

Activities relative to the Health Planning Council's functions. As Executive Director he will assist the Board of Trustees in developing and implementing agency policy, providing staff leadership, and be responsible for guiding the agency in the preparation of a Comprehensive Health Plan for the Merrimack Valley.

4 Bus Routes Filled At Lower Cost

Special ed, kindergarten and late bus routes were awarded Tuesday night, and the schools will get started today with a full complement of drivers.

In the process of filling these last routes, Assistant Business Manager Sam Arcidy said that he had combined some routes and collaborated with other towns on others, so the system will actually be paying less for them than last year.

In-town special ed routes, for instance, cost $78.50 per day last year, but will total $68.76 per day this year, for a year-long decrease of approximately $1800.

An in-town route was awarded to Dorothy Piercy for $20.10 a day, and a combined route to Gail Parent for $36.76 per day.

Out-of-town routes take Andover youngsters with special needs, to facilities where they can best be cared for. Elaine Cutler was awarded the route to Burke Hospital, for $17.25 a day ($28. last year.), and also the route to Hawthorne, at $21.

This route is now combined with North Reading, so it will actually cost the town only $10.50 per day, compared to $25 last year.

McGregor Smith received the route to Melrose and East Newberry for $9 ($10 last year); Jacqueline J. Robinson, a route to St. Ann's for $4.78; Elaine Cutler a route to Holy Union for $10 ($14 last year); Jacqueline Robinson, a route to John T. Berry for $3.98 ($9 last year); and Elaine Cutler, to Kennedy Memorial Hospital, for $23.

Arcidy says he plans to hold kindergarten buses to 25 miles per day. Routes were awarded Tuesday night to William and Jeffrey Watson, at $12.50 per day; to Frank Peterof at $13.50 and Brian Winter, $13.75 and John Dumont, $14. The total cost will be $115.30 per day, compared to $122.85 per day last year.

Late routes went to Charles Kent at $12.50 per day and James Vayanes at $13.49 per day.

Arcidy said that there had been some problems because the drivers were used to receiving the routes on a seniority system, but that he hoped they would understand that the school system had to make it competitive in order to stay within its budget.

soon as possible."

Griggs said at the offset of the discussion that Holmes this week had explained his position at Timberlane to him, and "seemed to imply" that he would have to have more than 30 days to get things in order there.

Olesen moved to accept Seifert's recommendations, but a Lyons amendment, which passed 3-2, stretched both the salary and the starting time.

Lane warned that the system would "enjoy repercussions for a long, long time to come."

"This will set a precedent for negotiations that will be very, very difficult to deal with," he said.

To support his contention that the $19,200 figure would disrupt the pay scale, Olesen said that an assistant principal, who was "a proven factor," recently retired after many years at only $19,000. The assistant principal at East Jr. High, with nearly 10 year's experience, he said, receives $18,700, while the assistant at West Jr. High, with a year under his belt, receives $16,500.

Wilbur Hixon, appointed to the first assistant principalship at the high school at the last committee meeting, will be receiving $18,000.

"It just seems inconsistent," Olesen went on, "though the gentleman is very qualified." Nothing works to lower morale more, he said, "than bucks." "It seems like we're going out of kilter for the sake of bringing one man on board."

Olesen added that Holmes now makes $17,500.

Lyons said that while he was "very concerned about cost," for him the issue "comes out on the side of wanting a certain person who's well qualified."

Holmes had previously been assistant principal at Timberlane from 1970 to 1974, and before that, a math coordinator and teacher at Ipswich High School. He received his master's degree in math from the University of South Carolina, and has 28 credits toward a degree in administration from the University of New Hampshire. He also has, as Wragg pointed out, computer experience in scheduling.

Griggs, the ultimate tie-breaker, said that he had developed a reputation of being "cheap with teachers, and frugal with administrators," but that he didn't think the appointment would cause irreparable damage.

He added his "yes" vote to those of Lyons and Wragg, with Lane voting "present," and Olesen changing his "no" to "yes" for the sake of a smooth start.

Lane said that he didn't have to change his vote because Holmes would know that he supports him as a person, but felt very strongly on the principle of salaries.

Donovan. His widow, Mrs. Katherine Donovan of Lawrence who was appointed to fill the post until this election is being contested by Mrs. Anna P. O'Connor of North Andover, Edward P. Carroll, Jr., of Swampscott and Cornelius J. Casey of Lawrence.

There is also a contest for the county sheriff position being vacated by incumbent Roger Wells.

Robert E. Cahill of Salem, a state representative is seeking the position, along with William J. Casey of Lawrence, David H. Jones of Lynn, Robert F. McGhee, and Harold M. Tobin of Salem.

There are no candidates for either county position on the Republican ballot.

For the first time in several years the top state position on the Republican ballot is being contested as Governor Francis W. Sargent faces the challenge of Carroll Sheehan.

Sargent's former secretary of administration and finance, William I. Cowin is being challenged in his bid for nomination as Attorney General by Charles C. Cabot, Jr. and Josiah A. Spaulding.

On the Democrat ballot, there are contests for several state positions, including that of Governor, where Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn is facing Michael S. Dukakis, former state representative for the nomination.

For the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, there are six candidates, Francis X. Bellotti, Barry T. Hannon, Edward F. Harrington, Edward M. O'Brien, S. Lester Ralph and George I. Sacco.

State Secretary John F.X. Davoren faces the challenge of Paul H. Guzzi and Treasurer Robert Q. Crane is being contested by Charles M. Furcolo.

Paul Tsongas of Lowell and William Madden are seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Fifth district to challenge incumbent Republican Paul W. Cronin of Andover in the November election.

Polling places for the primary will be Precinct one, Free Christian Church, Precinct two, Andover Baptist Church; Precinct three, Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium, Haverhill Street; Precinct four, West Elementary school (center and exit from High Plain Road); Precinct five, Ballard Vale United Church and Precinct six, Peabody House, Phillips Academy.

ment nationwide, and Andover is getting far more than its share. 2,023 students applied for this fall, as against 1,636 a year ago. Applications for next year already are ahead of the rate for this year, says Joshua Miner, Admissions Director, in spite of times of economic uncertainty. 12 per cent of the new PA students are day students, in line with the historical ratio of the Academy.

Eleven new teachers, an administrative assistant and 12 young teaching fellows who come for one year appointments after college, have joined the academy this year. The faculty includes a fulltime philosophy instructor for the first time. This appointment is financed by the Abbot Academy Association, which administers the Abbot Academy Fund to further the educational purposes of Abbot at Phillips Academy. This fund also is supporting development of the Academy's Psychology Department.

The new faculty includes an Andover native, Christopher J. Gurry, son of Mrs. Joseph F. Gurry, 1 William Street, Andover. Gurry, a hockey star at Andover and at Harvard College has been a member of the West Point Military Academy's physical education administration. He will teach history at Andover and assist in the administration of the physical education department.

Cronin Is Checking Post Office

Congressman Paul W. Cronin is visiting Fifth District postmasters this week in an effort to determine why the Postal Service received a low rating from area residents in Cronin's recent poll.

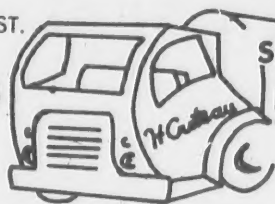

The visitations, part of the Cronin's Congressional duties, include plans for an effort to solve some of the problems facing the Postal Service.

The results of the poll, which were released earlier this month, showed great voter dissatisfaction with the Postal Service. Nearly 57% of the 22,000 respondents to Cronin's questionnaire felt that they are "receiving no better service from the new Postal Service as opposed to the old Department of the Post Office."

ELECT Attorney Gerald M. COHEN Representative for Andover

We want to thank the hundreds of people who have contributed time and effort to our first family experience in political campaigning.

We have had the privilege of meeting and talking to thousands of citizens in Andover, and we are convinced more than ever that the Democratic process works.

We urge you to vote in the Primary on Sept. 10.

Naturally, we want you to vote for Gerald Cohen, but more importantly, you must vote no matter which candidate you support.

ACT Begins New Season

The Andover Community Theatre will hold the first meeting of the new season on Wednesday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 in the Faculty room at West Elementary School.

Elected officers for the year are: Lyn Huttunen, president; Rick Cannon, vice president; and Susan Lenoe, corresponding secretary. Members of the Board are: Rick Winterson, Julie Pike, Liz Zeoli and Pat Doran.

Main topic of the meeting will be the fall production "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." Scheduled for November, "Dirty Work" is an old-fashioned "mellerdrummer" chock full of heroes, villains and ladies-in-distress. Work on this will begin immediately and it promises to be an enormous amount of fun both for performers and audiences.

ACT is also planning two other major productions this year plus many workshops. There will also be a special program at each meeting on some phase of theatre. For this meeting Rick Winterson who has been in community theatre for many years and who has directed several of ACT's previous hits, will give a talk on theatre and how and why it works.

Anyone in the community who is interested in theatre is urged to come to the meeting and get involved. New members are always welcome. Persons desiring to attend but who are in need of a ride, or who would like to be accompanied by a member, should contact Liz Zeoli, 235 Andover St., Andover.

Needed

Now that summer activities are winding down is the perfect time to think about taking on a volunteer role for the coming season. The need for volunteers is great and the opportunities diverse. If you want help in finding just the right volunteer niche, call the Volunteer Inservice Program, 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence, 687-3444 and let us help you find the volunteer role that uses your interests and talents most effectively.

Ecumenical Minister Is Speaker

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 5, 1974

Temple Emanuel of Lawrence, continuing in its long established custom of fostering inter-faith relations, will host a Clergy gathering at a continental breakfast to hear the Rev. Dr. William Richard Watters.

This breakfast meeting is scheduled for Wednesday morning, Sept. 11, at 9:30 a.m. - 11 a.m. at the Temple, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence.

The Rev. Dr. William Richard Watters was born in St. Paul, Minnesota and was ordained at the Lutheran Theological Seminary. Dr. Watter's background has been most varied and extremely interesting and has vividly portrayed a deep concern for his fellow man. While studying in Germany in 1962, he worked at a refugee camp for immigrants from Eastern Europe. In 1968 he served as the Chaplain in the alcoholic unit at Danvers State Hospital. In the summer of 1971 he participated in the Hebrew Union College Archaeological Project at Tel Gezer in Israel. In 1963, under grants from the United Methodist Church, Board of Missions and from American Jewry, Dr. Watters conducted research concerning Jewish-Christian relations in Israel.

He is at the present time a research scholar at the Ecumenical Institute for Advanced Theological Studies in Jerusalem, and at the same time a research associate at the Albright Institute for Archaeological Studies.

All clergy from the Greater Lawrence Area are invited to attend on Wednesday morning, Sept. 11 at 9:30 with or without reservations. However, a call in advance would be appreciated by Rabbi Roth at Temple Emanuel, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence.

HAUNTING HOUSE - Ken and Mike Richard enjoy exploring a snail shell - part of the "Haunting House" course at the Andover Unitarian Universalist church school.

Religious Education Program Provides Exciting Prospects

A series of meetings and workshops throughout the summer with prospective teachers and members of the Religious Education Committee has culminated in an exciting prospect for 1974-75 religious education at Andover's Unitarian Universalist Church.

Mrs. Carolyn Buss, the Director of Religious Education for the congregation, announces that the program, which encompasses nursery care through senior high, will be introduced Sunday, Sept. 8, at a 10:30 a.m. "sneak preview." All are welcome to attend this family worship service which will allow parents to become fully acquainted with the curriculum and materials involved, and to meet their children's teachers and complete registration.

Students in all grades will be involved in the discovery and understanding of self, others, and the world. Mrs. Jean Rickard, chairperson of the Religious Education Committee, outlines the church school classes as follows:

Nursery - care for children through the age of two.

Beginners (ages three and four) - "Experiencing Myself" will offer books, games, films and puppets dealing with themselves and their feelings.

Kindergarten through second grade - "The Haunting House" is a new Unitarian course that provides an opportunity for children to become aware of, and have affirmed, their need for special places which protect solitude and dreaming, intimacy with others, and a home for their memories. They will create new places of at-homeness as well as recognize old places of delight and comfort.

Third and fourth grades - will participate in "Human Heritage" and discover the cultural evolution, natural order and richness of the human existence and their place in the life process.

Fifth and sixth grades - "Free to be You and Me" will explore the common denominators of humanity for boys and girls and examine our culture's assumptions about roles and life styles.

Junior high youth - "Priests, Prophets and Protesters" is a course designed to help students understand protest movements. Jesus and others, past and current, will be considered in the context of when and where they lived, the conditions they were trying to correct and their effectiveness then and now. There will also be special crafts programs throughout the year.

Senior high youth will assist in church and church school on Sunday mornings and will meet for fellowship on Sunday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m.

Parents wishing further information are urged to contact Mrs. Buss at the church office, 244 Lowell St., Andover, on Thursday or Sundays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Slichot Service Saturday

Rabbi Harry A. Roth and Howard Ponty, president of Temple Emanuel, serving the Greater Lawrence Area, extend an invitation to the Jewish families of this area to join together at a Slichot Service on Saturday Evening, Sept. 7, at 10 p.m. This pre-midnight service, has for ages ushered in the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur period.

The evening will begin with an informal collation and discussion period and will be followed by the ritual at 11 p.m. conducted by Cantor Irving Shuman and the members of the committee involved in the preparation of this unique and meaningful experience. Members of the Temple Youth Group, under the chairmanship of Harold Webber will also participate.

Slichot is a traditional service, but in recent years has been rewritten and reintroduced by many liberal congregations who find in this service the means of expressing the mood of these days.

The officers and board extend an invitation for families of this Greater Lawrence Area to share in this service.

Orientation

The second largest entering class in the history of Merrimack College, was welcomed this past week at the North Andover campus.

Among the participants in the orientation program were Frederick Neergard, a senior, who was vice chairman of the program. Dr. Ernest F. Costello, Jr., of Andover was in charge of the academic orientation.

Community Schools Fall Program Begins Sept. 16

The Recreation/Community Schools Department will begin its 1974 Fall Program the week of Sept. 16. Registration will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 10 and Wednesday, Sept. 11 at Sanborn, Shawsheen, East Junior and West Junior from 7 - 9 p.m. Registrations will be accepted at the Recreation/Community Schools Office but they will not be counted until Thursday, Sept. 12.

There are a variety of new courses being offered this fall. Marilyn Pratt, who has previously taught a class in Historical Doll Dressmaking will be teaching a course in Quilting. While traditional quilts and puffs will be featured, any number of modern patchwork articles of clothing can be made in this course.

Edith Stevens, who also teaches crewel, will introduce a new course in canvas work, including bargello and other needlepoint stitches.

A popular course these days is the art of Cake Decorating. Basic techniques in borders, flowers, holiday and special occasion cakes will be taught by Connie Carroll. For those interested in health foods, learning how to grow simple, nutritious foods and cooking with whole grains, Joan Ruggiero will teach a course called Natural Foods. She will also be teaching a similar course for 4-9 graders called Exploring Natural Foods.

Marilyn Stella will be teaching two new courses: Sculpture will cover an introduction to sculptural processes using clay, plaster and wood; Silk Screen is an exploration of various techniques with an emphasis on stencils and the study of color, line and area. A course in the art of beautiful Oriental Rug Hooking will be taught by Betty Lou Gordon who presently teaches Knitting for the department. These are authentic oriental designs and the course is a first for this area.

Brad Lawson, who teaches Industrial Arts courses at Andover High School, will be teaching a course called Women's Guide to the Automobile. With the high cost of car repairs a little knowledge of warning signs, normal maintenance and small repairs can go a long way.

Edward Gordon will be teaching the martial art of Karate. This will include an overview of the art itself as well as instruction in basic exercises, self defense and relaxation techniques. In the language area, a course will be offered in Italian, covering the basics of everyday conversation. This will be taught by Dominic Rossi who also teaches Spanish Conversation 1 and 2 for the department. A class in Drawing for Junior High, which could not be held last January, will be taught by Anita Raymond. Students will have an opportunity to utilize a model for drawing.

Over 70 programs will be offered by the Recreation/Community Schools Department this fall. The Department believes there is something for everyone. As always, the department is receptive to the interests and needs of the community - but it can't serve unless you are heard.

Rimmer To Begin Duties At Pingree

The Pingree School starts its fourteenth school year on Sept. 10 under incoming headmaster Charles P. Rimmer.

Mr. Rimmer comes to Pingree from Groton School where he was Director of studies and Chairman of the math department. He taught at Groton for 24 years, and is a graduate of Harvard College. He served on the Town of Groton School Committee for two three year terms between 1964 and 1970.

Mr. Rimmer succeeds founding Headmaster William S. Rogers who retired at the end of the summer to resume teaching in the English Department of St. George's School, Rhode Island.

Pingree, an independent secondary day school, is in its fourth year of coeducation with a full enrollment of 184, including 126 girls and 58 boys.

The Beacon Hill Gang doesn't want Bill Cowin elected.

Because Bill Cowin can be pretty stubborn.

He knows pressure. He's had plenty.

From the Legislature. From state employees. From lobbyists.

But he's stood up to it. He ordered the phone company to upgrade service. And the gas and electric companies to give people a hearing before shutting off their service.

He cracked down hard on spending abuses - consultant hiring, out-of-state travel, no bid contracts.

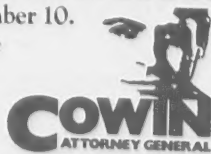

He made agencies open up their records to the public. He forced the Education Department to release reading scores, so that people could judge how well their schools were performing. He made the Insurance Department open up their consumer complaint files.

Bill did these things and more as assistant Attorney General, Chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, Secretary of the Office of Consumer Affairs and Secretary of Administration and Finance.

Think of how effective Bill Cowin could be as Attorney General.

If you think about it, you'll vote for him at the Republican Primary on September 10.

The chances are, you'll be glad you did.

Opera Company Sets Program For Season

Associate Artists Opera Company. Boston's own repertory opera, has announced the program for its 1974-1975 Season at the National Theater of The Boston Center For The Arts.

On Nov. 15 and 16 at 8 p.m., the company will present the American Professional Stage
Premiere of Antonio Salieri's comic opera, Falstaff. Based on the popular Shakespearean theme, the work was composed in 1799 by the man who reputedly poisoned Mozart. Researched by Robert Willoughby Jones, this new production will be partially made possible by a grant from The National Opera Institute.

The company's annual Family
Christmas Special, Gian Carlo
Menotti's Amahl And The Night
Visitors, will be given two performances - at 2 and 5 p.m. - on Saturday, Dec. 14. Group rates and family discounts are available for this perennial favorite. The season will continue with an unusual English version of Gioachinno Rossini's comic masterpiece, Cinderella, on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, 1975 at 8 p.m.

Prior to the opening of the season, a Gala Benefit Concert and Champagne Reception will be held on Sunday, Oct. 20, 1974 to inaugurate the company's annual Fund Raising Campaign. This season's entire roster of singers will present an evening of
"Favorite Opera Selections."

This special event will be sponsored by the Associate Artists Opera Guild. Other events of the current season will include a production of Engelbert Humperdinck's Hansel And Gretel, to be presented in collaboration with The Cape Cod Symphony
Orchestra on Dec. 8, at the Cape Cod Coliseum. The company will also participate in "The Lively Arts Parade" sponsored by The Metropolitan Cultural Alliance to bring the performing arts and workshops to suburban audiences.

The World Premiere performance of Mary Dyer, an American opera by composer, Richard Owen, and based on the life of the Quaker heroine who was hanged for her faith on Boston Common, will be presented as a collaborative ef-

Music Course

The current widespread interest in music and art has prompted Northeastern University, at its Burlington campus, to schedule a new adult day course for lovers of music and art. Starting in late September, these lectures will bridge the artistry of the painter and the musician.

Leo Litwin, prominent New England piano soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra, will present and discuss color slides depicting the relationship between famous artists and the major composers, and illustrate how so much of the great music we hear today was inspired by the works of world-renowned artists.

This adult day course will be offered on Monday mornings at 9:20, for the fall semester, beginning Sept. 30, and may be taken either for audit or college credit.
For further information on Music and Art, call Northeastern

Cultural Affairs and New York producer, Martin Smith. This special Bicentennial event is tentatively scheduled for June of 1975 at the Hatch Memorial Shell.
Other operas in the company's bicentennial season will include:
Robert Ward's The Crucible, based on Arthur Miller's gripping drama of the Salem Witchcraft trials; and the World Premiere presentation of Louis
Gruenberg's completed version of Emperor Jones, based on the Eugene O'Neill play by the same title. Although the opera's world premiere was given at the Metropolitan Opera in 1933, it has never been performed in its completed version including the "War Dance" written by Mr.

Gruenberg at a later date.

In an effort to attract the opera
audiences of tomorrow,
Associate Artists Opera Company will continue to offer
College Student Discount tickets through Campus Ticket Agencies. It will also continue a program of Preview Dress
Rehearsals for groups of Grade through High School students and their teacher/chaperones - a program which is made possible through funding from the Massachusetts Council On The Arts and Humanities. The school programs will be coordinated by

Record Sales At Standex

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) announced record sales, earnings and earnings per share in the fiscal year and the fourth quarter periods ending June 30, 1974. The company predicted "another record-breaking year" in the new fiscal year.

In the announcement, Daniel E. Hogan, president, indicated that, in view of the Company's record results and favorable prospects for the future, Standex's Board of Directors plans to consider a dividend increase at its next meeting. He stated that the company has adopted a new dividend policy whereby Standex intends to pay out cash dividends of at least 20 per cent of net earnings to its stockholders in the future.

In the 1974 fiscal year, earnings per share rose 19 per cent to $2.48, up from $2.09 the prior year (before extraordinary income). Net sales for the year rose 17 per cent, amounting to $174,863,000, up from $148,896,000 in the prior year. Net income in the 1974 fiscal year amounted to $6,829,000, up 14 per cent from the prior year's $6,002,000 (before extraordinary income).

Mr. Hogan stated that earnings before taxes, interest expense and "equity earnings" rose 36 per cent from the year before. He added that this was the 11th consecutive year in which sales have increased and the 10th consecutive year (with one exception) in which earnings per share have set new records. In fiscal 1973, the company also realized extraordinary income of $17,435,000 or an additional $6.10 per share from the sale of Squibb and A.T. Cross stock.

Mr. Hogan indicated that the year ended on a "strong positive note," with record fourth quarter sales, net income and earnings per share, in addition to all-time-high backlogs throughout the corporation. Net income in the fourth quarter amounted to $1,866,000, up 22 per cent from the $1,530,000 (before extraordinary income) realized in the prior year's final quarter. Earnings per share rose to 67 cents, up 16 per cent from 58 cents (before extraordinary income), and sales amounted to $43,206,000, an increase of 19 per cent from the prior year's $36,211,000.

Mr. Hogan stated that "in fiscal 1974, Standex exceeded its goals and estimates in the face of a very difficult business climate. Based on the pace of incoming orders, the record backlogs and the overall 'feel' of our business, we are confident that fiscal 1975 will be another record year."

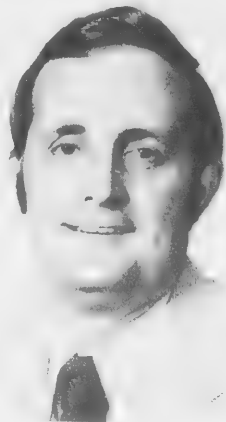

Reviewing Standex's fiscal 1974 results, Mr. Hogan indicated that the Industrial Products segment of the business made the largest contribution to earnings. He cited the "impressive results" attained from Standex's operating units in the field of "texturization" (industrial embossing and engraving), its division that produces steel joists and trusses for the commercial and industrial field, its metal-spinning unit which supplies components for the energy industries, as well as other capital goods operations. He added that "healthy contributions" also came from the company's Institutional Products and Graphics Group operations.

Mr. Hogan added that results in the Consumer Products Group were "disappointing" as a result of softness in the overall consumer goods sector of the economy plus several "extraordinary developments of a non-recurring nature." He mentioned start-up costs at a new cast aluminum foundry in Arkansas, plus problems in a Norwegian plant which resulted from devaluation of the dollar and the competitive situation in Europe. Mr. Hogan indicated that the start-up costs were absorbed last year and provisions have been made to minimize these problems and losses in the future. He added that the Consumer Products Group should be "modestly profitable" in fiscal 1975.

Mr. Hogan stated that Standex currently is in a strong financial position, following the private placement of $20 million in 15-year Senior notes at an interest rate of 9 per cent. Book value at year-end amounted to $21.47 per share and working capital amounted to $51.9 million.

Standex is a diversified manufacturer operating in four basic growth areas: Consumer Products; Institutional Products; Graphics; and industrial and Electronic Products.

Daniel F. Murphy

Division Director At DASA

Daniel F. Murphy was appointed director, Communications Products Division, DASA Corporation, Andover, a new post.

The announcement was made by Robert J. Shea, Director of Domestic Marketing for the firm.

In his new post, Mr. Murphy will direct and be responsible for the establishment of the division and total programs in national distribution, product marketing, distributor support and sales training. The new DASA division will center its efforts on the development and national sales of new telephone "add-on" devices and other telecommunication products to improve present phone operations and systems.

Dan has been with DASA since 1971 and prior to this appointment was Sales Manager, Distributor Sales. His experience spans all phases of domestic and international marketing with emphasis on electronic and telecommunication products.

Previously with Dynamics Research Corporation, Dan holds a Bachelor of Science degree, marketing, economics, from Boston College. Active in many organizations he is former President and Treasurer, West Woburn Civic Association, and is Secretary of the Board of Governors, Indian Ridge Country Club, Andover. The Murphy's, Dan and Rita, his wife, and their four children reside at Eight Freedom Road, Woburn.

Mudge Is Appointed Director

Arthur W. Mudge, formerly Deputy Director of the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) Mission to Bolivia, has been appointed Director of the AID Mission to Guyana, it was announced Aug. 29.

A Harvard-trained lawyer, Mudge joined AID in 1966 following nine years of private practice in New Hampshire, where he is a member of the Bar. He began as an attorney-advisor with AID and he was named Assistant General Counsel in 1968. After assignment to Panama in 1969 as Regional Legal Advisor, Mudge served in Lima, Peru as a Capital Projects Development Officer and Multisector Officer until he was named Deputy Director of the mission to Bolivia in 1972.

A native of Andover, where he was born July 15, 1929, Mudge earned an undergraduate degree in engineering from Princeton in 1951 and was graduated from Harvard Law School in 1956. He had two years' service with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers from 1951 to 1953. He was clerk for the U.S. Court of Appeals in 1956 and 1957 and had been a partner in the law firm of Sulloway, Hollis, Godfrey and Soden in Concord, N.H., prior to joining AID.

As Director of the AID Mission in Georgetown, Mudge will work with officials of the Government of Guyana on programs aimed at improving and increasing rice production and crop diversification.

Mudge is married to the former Mary Ann Cadwell and they have four daughters.

Produce Buys

Massachusetts fresh tomatoes are plentiful this week, says the MDA, though the supply will taper off shortly, with higher prices fairly certain. If you plan some canning of red tomatoes, your best opportunity is right now.

Still good buys at farm stands throughout the Bay State are green cabbage, beans, cucumbers and pickling cukes, eggplant, Boston and Salad Bowl lettuce, green peppers, yellow and zucchini squash, and Swiss chard. The latter is very well priced currently, and makes a good substitute for spinach. It is cooked the same way. Look for it at roadside stands and market produce counters this week.

In 1765 the first chocolate mill in America was built in Dorchester on the Neponset river.

The Merrimack Planning Commission is moving toward reviewing a proposed health center for the region. Review Committee Named

The Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council, Inc., is preparing to assume its responsibilities toward review and comment on proposed health programs for the region. A Review and Comment Committee has been formed with the appointment of seven members by the council's board chairman, Dr. Joseph Hart. Joseph Sweeney has been named chairman of the committee. Other members include: Benjamin Armstrong of Haverhill, Roger B. Labouteley of Newburyport, Mrs. Mary Mascola of North Andover, Raymond Monahan of Lawrence, Costas Psomos of Dracut, David A. Reilly of Chelmsford.

The committee will attend educational meetings on Sept. 10 and 24, to learn about their function. These initial sessions will be conducted by staff from the state Office of Comprehensive Health Planning and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

The task of the Review and Comment Committee will be to contain health costs by discouraging the proliferation of unneeded health care facilities, equipment and services. With the ever increasing cost of health care, this task will be a difficult one.

The Review and Comment Committee will be responsible for ensuring that federally funded health projects and any local capital expenditures for health facilities or services are in accord with principles, goals and priorities established by the Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council to reflect community needs. Projects which do not meet existing or projected community needs will not be reviewed favorably.

Other considerations for project approval are: whether the proposed project can be adequately staffed and operated; whether expenditures will result in unreasonable increases in charges to patients; or whether the proposed project will improve efficiency and productivity and thus foster cost containment.

The authority for the Review and Comment function comes from the original Comprehensive Health Planning legislation (PL. 89-749), from recent federal requirements for capital expenditure review of new facilities or equipment (PL. 92-603), and from Massachusetts state law which requires that there shall be no construction of a new health care facility, modification of an existing facility, or substantial change in services of an existing facility without a valid Certificate of Need issued by the Department of Public Health (General Laws, Chapter 111, Section 3).

Following the educational sessions in September, the Review and Comment Committee will begin operation. Ample opportunity will be given to applicants to present their programs and the opinions of the public will be welcome.

If there are any questions concerning the responsibilities of the Review and Comment Committee, please write or call

Uncle Sam Sells Silver

About $1.4 million is being returned to the federal government from sale of silver and mercury recovered from medical uses in the 171 Veterans Administration hospitals during the past year.

The recovery also is advantageous in keeping mercury from polluting the environment and in conserving silver at a time when this metal is in extremely short supply.

The agency expects to realize some $650,000 from 870,000 pounds of silver from obsolete diagnostic x-ray films, $760,919 from 165,417 troy ounces of refined silver from exhausted x-ray developing solutions, and $36,840 from exhausted medical-device batteries collected in fiscal 1974.

The films are scrapped after serving all useful purposes as medical records.

Most of this money will go into the VA revolving fund for furnishing supplies to the agency's hospitals and clinics. The remainder will go into the U. S. Treasury.

14 School Positions Filled

With only two days to go before the start of school, the Andover School Committee Tuesday night elected and appointed personnel to 14 positions, while also accepting six resignations and one retirement.

Mrs. Priscilla Bowman of the media distribution center, and a secretary in Andover schools since 1960, retired, effective August 31.

Miss Anita Charpentier, health coordinator who has been in Andover since 1970, resigned to take a position in Chelmsford. Other resignations were from Mrs. Jean Foster, parttime learning disabilities tutor at West Jr. High; Mrs. Josephine Iacabo, parttime business ed teacher at West Jr. High; Mrs. Dorothy Jansen, instructional aide at Bancroft; Mrs. Sandra Morse, biology teacher at the high school and Mrs. Janice Silva, English teacher at West Jr. High.

The eight elections are effective September 1. They follow:

Miss Elaine Bounakes of Belmont, formerly an elementary music teacher in Lowell, will teach general music at South School, taking the place of Susan Wepfer, who resigned.

Miss Bounakes received her bachelor's degree from Syracuse in 1972, and has since taken music courses at Boston University and Lowell State.

Mrs. Patricia Corcoran of Andover, will be filling the newly created position of teacher of the physically handicapped. She received her B.S. degree in nursing from Boston State College in 1957, and has taken education courses since at Lowell State. She was in Andover's L.D. Training Program last year.

Mrs. Corcoran has been a pediatric nursing instructor at the Lawrence General Hospital School of Nursing, worked on a National Institute of Health Research Project on mental retardation and blindness, taught grade three in Tewksbury, and was a special needs substitute at Bancroft School last fall.

Mrs. Marilyn Cronin of Andover, a half-time kindergarten teacher at West Elementary School last year, has been appointed full-time there this year, replacing Mrs. Whitley, who resigned.

Edward Bennet of Andover will be a French/Spanish teacher at East Jr. High, replacing Mr. Thurber who moved on to the high school. A May, 1974 graduate of the University of Connecticut with a bachelor's degree, he did his practice teaching in French at New Canaan (Conn.) High School and also did substitute teaching last year.

Mrs. Sheila Eckoff of Andover will be teaching Loft 6 at Bancroft, replacing Mrs. Sweet who resigned. Mrs. Eckoff holds a bachelor's degree from Rhode Island College and is expecting her master's degree this year. She previously taught grades five and six in Providence, R.I., and directed a nursery school in Pittsford, N.Y. She substituted in Andover and North Andover last year.

Miss Deborah Houle will teach English at West Jr. High. A 1973 graduate of Boston College, with a B.A. degree, she was a permanent substitute in English at West Jr. High last year.

Michael Lynch will be teaching biology at the high school, replacing Mrs. Morse, who resigned. He received his B.A. degree from St. Anselm's College in 1967, and his master's from the University of Mississippi in 1971. He previously taught biology at the Merrimack (N.H.) High School for four years.

Mrs. Myrna Silverman of Andover will be a learning disabilities teacher/tutor at South School, replacing Mrs. Deacon, who resigned. She holds a B.S. degree from Tufts University, and was in the Andover L.D. Training Program in 1972. She has been a substitute in Andover elementary for the past three years and was a linguistics tutor in summer school here.

Appointments, also effective September 1, include:

Mrs. Carmelina Galvagna of North Andover, will be a part-time business education teacher at West Jr. High School, replacing Mrs. Iacabo. She holds B.S. and M.Ed. degrees from Boston University, and has taught business ed in Peterborough, N.H., and at Haverhill High School. She has substituted in high schools in Lawrence, North Andover and Haverhill.

Miss Brenda Lee of Bradford will be an instructional aide in the 6th Loft at Bancroft, replacing Mrs. Jansen. Holder of a B.A. degree from Wheaton College, she has previously served as a volunteer at South and West Elementary schools here.

Mrs. Alice Sheedy, who holds an A.A. degree from Chamberlayne Jr. College, will be a parttime clerical aide at West Elementary, replacing Mrs. Lussier, who resigned. She previously has been a clerical clerk for Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. in Boston and a medical secretary at Harvard University, and she was a volunteer and substitute at West last year.

Joseph Hagan, who has been an English teacher at West Jr. High since May, 1971, working particularly with children with special learning needs, has been appointed resource center coordinator at West Jr. High. He was in charge of developing the Language Arts Skill Activities Program and also developed curriculum materials relating to students with special needs in the language arts area.

Mrs. Norman Eisenberg will be a special needs resource teacher at East Jr. High. She holds a B.A. degree from New York University, and has just received her master's degree from Lesley College. She was a volunteer in the L.D. program at West Elementary and last year was an instructional aide in the high school L.D. program.

Mrs. Mary Jane Powell, who has been a teacher aide and instructional aide at West Elementary, will be a resource aide at West Jr. High. She attended Marquette University and Andover's L.D. Training Program, and was a volunteer aide here prior to last year.

Other personnel action included the promotional transfer of Mrs. Jean Finn to learning disabilities resource teacher. A cum laude graduate of the University of Massachusetts, she conducted the Andover L.D. training program in 1973 and 1974, was an L.D. teacher consultant from 1972 to 1974 and before that was a third grade teacher at West Elementary.

Private School Closes

Due to inflation and a continuing drop in enrollment, Sacred Heart Boarding School in Shawsheen has been closed.

The announcement was made last week, following a meeting of the Provincial Chapter of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart of New England. The decision was to terminate the educational facility effective immediately.

The school has served the area for the past 28 years.

Faculty members are to be reassigned to other schools conducted by the order in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The future use of the building has not been determined. The building is the former general offices of the American Woolen Company and was part of the William M. Wood dream village of Shawsheen of over 50 years ago.

The American Woolen symbols are over the doorways at the entrances of the building.

Also owned by Sacred Heart is the Cardinal Cushing gymnasium on Haverhill Street. This property was once the Crystal ballroom, a popular dance spot for the area for many years before Raytheon Manufacturing Co., then located in the Shawsheen Mills converted it to office space.

Raytheon later offered the school the building when it moved to its new West Andover plant.

The first classes will start Oct. 9 and will run on four consecutive

Corn Supply High

Rumors of the demise of the native Massachusetts sweet corn crop have grown almost faster than the corn this summer -- and they're all premature, reports the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA) this week.

Output has been steady, and is expected to be even more plentiful now that the fields have had some good rain. Roadside farm stands and produce counters should be well supplied with fresh bi-colored corn right now, and picking will continue until the first severe frost, according to the experts.

As the weather cools, the kernels hold their sugar content longer, so sweet corn in the early fall is very much a reality.

If you have the freezing capacity at home, this week and next should be an excellent time to buy corn by the box from your nearby farm stand.

An excellent pamphlet on choosing, preparing and freezing corn is available from the MDA. The process is quite simple, but we'll leave the details to the instruction booklet.

You can request the pamphlet, "Massachusetts Sweet Corn" by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Division of Markets, MDA, 100 Cambridge St., Boston 02202.

Freezing corn yourself retains all the goodness of the fresh-picked ears, and should come out even better than the commercially-frozen corn marketed through the winter. But before committing a large supply, you can test the process: freeze half a dozen ears, and try them in a week or ten days. Then go for full production.

Children's Room News

Attention 7th graders! Did you know that when you begin to go to junior high school, you can get a library card that can be used both in the children's room and in the adult department? You can! Just stop in at the circulation desk in the Children's Room and ask for a "transfer." It will only take a minute.

Parents, as school starts for your older children, you are probably wondering what you will do with your pre-school children to keep them busy. Check into our pre-school story hours. We have six groups; four meet on alternate Tuesday and Wednesday mornings from 10 to 10:45 a.m. and two meet on alternate Monday evenings from 6:15 to 7:15 p.m. except for school vacations. Of course space is somewhat limited so that we do ask that you pre-register your child (aged 3½ by Oct. 1 please). Do it now!

Everyone! Please check your library card in the upper right hand corner. Has it expired? Do not throw it away. Bring it to the circulation desk; we'll be happy to renew it.

Fall programs are being scheduled now. Watch this spot and you'll be the first to know what's happening.

Warriors Have Tough Act To Follow

By Rick Harrison
What do you do for an encore? If your name is Dick Collins and you're the head football coach at Andover High School, the answer is pretty tough.

Two years ago the Golden Warriors' grid machine posted an 8-1 record, finishing second to undefeated Wilmington in the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Last year AHS cruised to a perfect 9-0 regular-season, winning the MVC championship and qualifying for the North Division II "Super Bowl" Game. The only blemish on the ledger was a lopsided defeat to Catholic Memorial in the Bowl game.

So what do you do for an encore? You win it all this year!

Well, Dick Collins isn't about to go predicting anything like that when he has just 13 lettermen returning, including four offensive starters and two defensive starters.

But, as is usually true with Andover, this 1974 edition should be another potent one.

Collins is starting his 20th season as a schoolboy football coach, the last 16 of which have been spent in Andover.

The 1973 team was his first to go undefeated through the regular campaign, but Collins-coached clubs have won three MVC championships and posted a long string of winning seasons.

Andover will enter this 1974 season riding a 17-game MVC victory streak. The last loss was a wild 33-27 decision to Wilmington in the opening game two years ago, but since then nobody has touched the Golden Warriors.

75 Candidates

Andover began pre-season practices along with everyone else on Monday, August 26, and the staff greeted 75 candidates at that first workout.

The initial week was devoted to double sessions, early in the morning and early in the evening, designed to "beat the heat." Now that school has started it's back to the conventional single workout.

Injuries

Injuries have already arrived to complicate matters, with three potential starters currently sidelines.

T.J. Stamas, a senior two-way starter last year at offensive end and defensive back, dislocated his shoulder at practice eight days ago.

"We were going through a simple little drill when it happened," noted Collins, "and he will be lost to us indefinitely."

Mark Hamilton, a senior lineman and a letterman who received some varsity exposure last year, is shelved with a broken hand.

"He hurt it last year in the Catholic Memorial game," related Collins. "It never healed correctly following an operation over the summer. But Mark is out running with the team every day to keep in shape, so it's just a matter of getting the doctor's OK now. Once he does it won't take him long to come back because he'll be in condition."

The third casualty is Paul McIntyre, a senior lineman who broke his ankle last month while playing baseball in the Recreation League.

Paul centered for the JV team last year, and when Hamilton got hurt we figured Paul would step into the spot on the varsity. Now it's a question of whether his rehabilitation period will be long or short. He had the cast removed this week, which is a good sign.

"Actually we have hopes of getting all three back somewhere along the line," commented Collins.

Veterans

The skimpy list of offensive veteran starters encompasses junior end Glenn Verrette (5'10", 150 pounds), junior halfback Bill Alexander (5'8", 160), senior halfback Steve Fabiani (5'10", 155) and Stamas.

Verrette was tied for the team leadership in points scored last year as a sophomore with 36, and he also caught 17 passes including six for touchdowns.

Alexander was one of the team's top rushers, possessing both speed and power, but he was felled by a concussion against Memorial.

Fabiani was off to a good start in 1973 before he suffered a broken leg in the fourth game against Methuen.

Defensively the only regulars back again are Stamas and linebacker Bill Kenney.

The remaining lettermen with some varsity experience are senior tackle John McDonald (6'3", 190), senior Ralph Borelli (5'9", 160) who has been converted from a back to a guard, placekicking specialist and backup center Pete Reilly, senior quarterback Jeff Winters (6', 180), senior fullback Dale Tallini

Bob Says:

There's a cartoon hanging in the office over here drawn by the boss's kids. It shows an odd-looking fellow with his arms out imploringly and a very complex, through remarkably complete copier. The man is saying, "Darnets! It doesn't work." Truth is that while we may say that, or worse, now and again, we do manage to fix just about every machine we're asked to. Occasionally we fix what others, purported to be copier technicians have failed to fix. Course we have to be good - we advertise that the least costly copier you can get is the one you've got, properly serviced. And that's good news in inflation times. An awful lot of machines are traded in simply because they're dirty or because the "technical representative" doesn't really understand the machine. We make it our business to understand copiers - and because we do, there's a growing number of business and professional people in Greater Andover who now receive clear legible copies and super-fast service from Copilabs. WE can make everyone else's claims come true.

We Understand Copiers

KEY COGS in the Andover High football team's offensive wheel this season will be the four performers pictured above. Bottom left is end Glenn Verrette, a junior who caught six TD passes last season and two last Saturday in a scrimmage against North Andover. Bottom right is Bill Alexander, one of the team's top rushers out of the halfback slot. Top left is end T.J. Stamas, currently sidelined with a dislocated shoulder. Top right is quarterback Jeff Winters, assigned to make the Warriors' "run-and-shoot" offense click.

(5'8", 170), and defensive backs Brian Flannery and Craig Eosefow.

Evaluations

"There is no doubt that our strength lies in our offensive backs and ends, with 4-for-6 starters back from last year," related Collins.

"Not only do we have ample experience there, but each of those kids is the type of player who can bust a game wide open."

"Both lines have been almost entirely wiped out, and while we're very inexperienced there I'm not sure you could call it a weakness."

"We will be a very different team from the one we had last season," continued Collins. "This year we'll be small and quick, as opposed to bigger and slower last year."

But as big and slow as Andover may have been in 1973, their defense was among the best in Eastern Massachusetts, let alone the Merrimack Valley.

"It would be a pretty tall order to expect equal replacements for kids like Jeff Towne (All-Scholastic linebacker), Ray Pizarro, Frank Kenney, Bob Burrow, Bill DeLuca, etc.," admitted Coach Collins.

"We stopped everybody as cold as a mackerel until those last two games (21-14 win over Lawrence Central and Bowl game), and that would be tough to duplicate."

"I consider last year's defense the best I've ever had as a coach, and Jeff Towne was the best defensive player on an individual basis," lauded Collins.

"But you don't necessarily need that great a defense to win."

Good Underclassmen

In addition to the remnants of the 9-0 varsity team, the Golden Warriors this year will reap the benefits of a championship JV team that also went undefeated at 6-0-2 and a pair of freshman clubs at East and West that posted identical 6-1 ledgers.

Scrimmage

Collins and Assistant Coaches Dick Bourdelais and Bill Vickers had their first look at the 1974 team "under fire" in a controlled scrimmage against neighboring North Andover last Saturday at Andover.

"Both teams scored two touchdowns," noted Collins, "but the two North Andover scores came when the third units of both teams were playing."

"Our two touchdowns were passes from Winters to Verrette. Verrette looked just great throughout the scrimmage," lauded Collins, "and on one of his TDs he caught the ball on the left sideline and made a long run across the field before scoring."

Verrette played one end posi-

HITTING THE SLED in practice session are Andover High gridders (l-r) John McDonald, Brian Flannery, Steve Fabiani and Bill Kenney. All four are returning lettermen from last year's 9-0 team. McDonald is in the running as a two-way lineman and punter this season. Flannery is a key defensive back. Fabiani will start at halfback, after playing four games last year before breaking a leg against Methuen. Kenney is the lone starting defensive lineman back this year.

tion with junior Mark Farnham (5'6", 135) on the other side. Mark's older brother Bob, now at Brown, holds virtually every pass-catching record in the books at Andover except that of receptions for a sophomore (now owned by Verrette).

Winters was the quarterback of the "run-and-shoot" offense on the first unit, with Alexander at right halfback, Fabiani at left halfback and Tallini at fullback.

Tallini saw some action in the backfield last year, but he doesn't have the fullback berth sewed up by any means.

Collins rattled off the names of Mike Russo, Brian Flannery, sophomore Lou Pizarro, sophomore Jerry Stabile, junior Ken LaFleur, junior John Fabiani and Craig Eosefow. All are fullback possibilities.

Lineman

John McDonald opened at one offensive tackle, while the other tackle slot was split between juniors Jim Deyermund (6'2", 190) and Dave Walker (6'1", 265).

The guards were Ralph Borelli and Bill Kenney (5'10", 165), both seniors, while the alternates at center were starter Dan Billings (5'11", 180), junior John Drivas (5'10", 175) and Pete Reilly (6', 195).

Defense

McDonald started at defensive end on one side, while others battling for a berth were Tallini, Billings, LaFleur and Bob MacMackin.

Middle linebackers were Drivas and Kenney, while handling the bulk of the outside linebacking duties were Russ Tassanari, Borelli, Stabile and small-but-aggressive Paul Rindone (5'4", 130).

Deep secondary men were Verrette, Eosefow and Flannery.

Collins is also considering the use of Alexander and Winters back there.

"Coaches are always reluctant to put their offensive backs on defense for fear of injury," explained Collins. "But you want to have your best people out there, too, which sometimes makes it necessary."

The interior defensive line was manned by John Aiello (5'7", 180), a senior, Dave Packard (6', 200), a junior, and Mike Bernard (5'9", 210), a sophomore, along with Dave Walker and Jim Deyermund.

Air Show

The world famous Red Devils Precision Aerobatic Team will perform just one of the many exciting acts at the Air Show and Open House at Naval Air Station, South Weymouth, on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 7 and 8.

Also featured will be the Navy's own Blue Angels, the Flying Pierces with a wing riding act, stunt pilot "Corky" Fornoff flying a Bede jet, plus a British-built "Harrier" jet equipped for vertical takeoff and landing. The gates at the base will open at 9:30 a.m. both days.

Planning the proper and best use of land requires the efforts of both municipal and private experts. Many cities and towns are now trying to correct the mistakes of the past. When developments are entirely new there is latitude to effect designs that are functionally and aesthetically correct. In some areas complete new cities are rising out of the wilderness as if by magic. The cost of developing raw land can exceed its original cost by four or five times.

Land is a valuable asset. Your real estate questions are welcome at BOXTOP REALTY, Olde Andover Village. Tel. 475-3984. Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5 Sun. by app't. Promising Upperclassmen

A host of other upperclassmen have an outside shot at seeing varsity action this season.

Collins mentioned the work of senior Duncan Black, Rich Perruto, Tim Crush and Tim Meyers at split end. John Zapola and Randy St. Amand are working at guard, Hugh Conlon at center, Mike McCormick and John Fox at quarterback and the halfback trio of Dave Mirisola, Bob Hoelzel and Jamie Meyers.

Another potential lineman is Alan Sherrad, a 6'3", 210-pound strongboy and track shot putter up from the JVs. He missed the North Andover scrimmage with a bruised shoulder, however.

Sophomores

Of all the sophomores in camp, Collins rated Jerry Stabile and Mike Bernard as the two with the best chance of playing varsity.

It is very rare that a sophomore plays regularly on the AHS varsity. Verrette and Alexander made it last year, and Stabile (West Junior High) and Bernard (East Junior High) are the standouts this season.

"I think you'll see both of those boys playing a lot of football for us this year," concurred Collins. "Stabile is one of the best I've seen here in some time offensively."

Kicking

Several players are battling it out for the punter's job, and the frontrunner is John McDonald who is getting the best distance.

Doing the centering for the kicker will be either John Drivas, John Terry or Russ Tassanari.

"It's an extremely important job, obviously," explained Collins, "so we'll give all three a good look-see before the final choice is made."

Pete Reilly has the PAT and field goal attempts sewed up, after an impressive 1973 season that saw him connect on 26-of-29 PAT tries.

The kickoff chores are a different story, as Reilly is being pressed for the job by Dale Tallini, Dan Billings and Dave Walker.

"Things to take into consideration here, unless the kid is booming them through the endzone, are running speed and ability to tackle in the open field," remarked Collins. "The kicker has to be ready to make the stop, too, so you need someone with mobility out there."

More Scrimmages

Andover will knock heads with Wellesley in the second pre-season scrimmage this Saturday at 10 a.m. at Wellesley.

Two other scrimmages are listed against Burlington (Sept. 11) and Wakefield (Sept. 14), both at Andover.

"That's a lot of heavy contact in one week," admitted Collins. "It's more than I usually like to have, but I think it's exactly what this year's team needs."

Schedule

There will be no MVC Jamboree this year, primarily because the season has been extended from nine to 10 games.

Andover will open its schedule on Saturday, Sept. 21 with a non-league game at Pentucket Regional.

The nine MVC games will follow in succession, all on Saturdays at 1:30 p.m. except for the Thanksgiving Day game on Nov. 28 against Lawrence Central in Andover.

Coaches

In addition to Dick Bourdelais and Bill Vickers, Andover retains Bob King as the team trainer.

Wil Hixon has relinquished his job as JV coach because of his recent appointment as assistant principal.

Steve Gesing moves up from assistant to Head JV Coach, while Biff Moriarty is the new assistant.

Gesing, Moriarty and Bourdelais, incidentally, all played for Collins over the last 16 years.

The controversial tie-breaker rule initiated this year will not be used in the MVC.

Anniversary Fair At Topsfield

Final flourishes are being given Topsfield Fair's greatest show - celebration of the 150th anniversary of this oldest of America's county fairs Saturday, Sept. 28, through Sunday, Oct. 6.

U.S. state, county and municipal officials will participate in various segments of the nine-day program, which will trace in exhibits, demonstrations and other visuals the history of the event, from the first rural outing in 1818 to today's sophisticated educational and entertainment spectacular. Although the sponsoring Essex Agricultural Society conducted its first fair (on Salem Common) 156 years ago, this year marks the actual sesquicentennial of the fair because it was suspended for three years by government decree during the Civil War and for three years during World War II due to gas rationing.

Lending lustre to the elaborate schedule of attractions will be Bobby Burgess and Cissy King, dance stars of the Lawrence Welk show, Sept. 28-29; the Jack D'John trio, Las Vegas favorites, Sept. 30-Oct. 5; Henry Cogert's "Sesqui-Sensations" stage show, Sept. 30-Oct. 6; Clydesdale horses, Sept. 29-30; Massachusetts National Lancers in equestrian exhibition and cavalry charge, Sept. 29; New England championship horse-pulling competition, Sept. 28-29; championship oxen-pulling, Oct. 6; American Indian festival, Oct. 6.

Ted Harrington started his campaign for Attorney General seventeen months ago. When he visited Andover then, he met with small groups of people - people who wanted an Attorney General who would be a prosecutor, not a politician - who would owe no political debts.

But the groups of people supporting Ted Harrington aren't so small anymore. With each visit to Andover, Ted Harrington has gained support, until now the Attorney General's race is between two men. One of them is Frank Bellotti. The other is Ted Harrington.

Vote for Ted Harrington. He's a prosecutor - not a politician.

THE ANDOVER BABE RUTH baseball team recently completed a highly-successful 1974 season, finished second to Methuen in the Greater Lawrence League with a 15-6 record. Overall, including playoffs and pre-season, Andover had a 19-8-1 ledger. Front row (l-r): Steve Serley, Lennie Driscoll, Chuck Souter, Dave Farrell and Danny Grams. Second row (l-r): John Lyons, Dan Hayes, Brian Twomey, Bob Zwicker, Thom Lawler, Mark LaLonde and Greg Nicastro. Back row (l-r): Coach Fred Serley, Tom Coffey, Jeff Hubbell, Gary Needham and Manager Rick Harrison. Missing when the photo was taken was batboy Mike Twomey. Both Brian Twomey and Thom Lawler were league All-Stars, with Rick Harrison an All-Star coach. Twomey (.418), Coffey (.412) and LaLonde (.412) were the leading hitters, and Twomey posted the top pitching mark of 8-3.

West Swim Meet Champs

Junior Football Tryouts

The Andover Junior Football League is getting ready to launch its 15th season of competition for boys ages 9 to 13. Tryouts for the league will be held at the East Junior High Playstead Field on Monday thru Thursday, Sept. 9, 10, 11 and 12 at 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

All players must register and try out at one of these times in order to be assigned to a team. A $10 fee should accompany the application; such fee will be refunded if the boy is not selected.

The League is for boys who will have reached their ninth birthday by Sept. 1, and who will not reach their 14th birthday by Jan. 1, 1975. The boys must not weigh more than 120 pounds on the day they officially register for play unless they are 12 years or under.

All eighth grade boys must first try out for their appropriate Junior High School seventh and eighth grade teams and be released by the coach after tryouts. In order to be eligible for the Junior Football League, they must at that time obtain a release slip from the Junior High School coach and present it to the Junior League Officials.

All coaches will be on hand at the tryouts, and the candidates will be grouped according to ability after the final session. The team draft will follow. The League will consist of six teams of 30 players each. All games are held at the Andover Playstead on Sundays beginning Sept. 29, at 12 noon for five consecutive Sundays.

Applications can be attained at Dana's Sportswear, and all elementary schools.

da Vinci Work On Exhibit

Lowell Technological Institute will host a major touring exhibition of 21 models built from the scientific and technical drawings of Leonardo da Vinci, beginning Sept. 5 at the Alumni Memorial Library. President Everett V. Olsen has announced.

The exhibition of the 15th Century artist-scientist's work focuses on his inventive genius that conceived the "flying machine" and other developments that did not take practical form until modern times.

On loan from the I.B.M. Corporation, Lowell Tech will feature the exhibit through Sept. 27 in the foyer of the campus library, and the display is open to the general public.

Models in the Lowell Tech show include both practical and theoretical devices. Among them are a paddle-wheel ship, an idea that was not successfully developed until the advent of steam power in the 19th Century; a theoretical gear system that produced three speeds of rotation, as in the modern automobile transmission; and a device for determining the tensile strength of wire, information essential to the engineer five centuries ago, as it is today.

The first set of models of Leonardo's work constructed in contemporary times was built in 1938 for an exhibition in Milan, Italy. It traveled briefly, and during World War II was completely destroyed.

Another group of models, built in the United States after the war, was acquired by the I.B.M. Corporation and added to the company's touring exhibition program. The models displayed at Lowell Tech will be accompanied with panels of explanatory material and sketches reproduced from the notebooks of Leonardo da Vinci.

The unique L.T.I. exhibit will be open to the public weekdays from 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. Area schools interested in viewing the upcoming display with their students, or other large groups, should contact Jan Baranowski at the Lowell Tech Library for further information.

Ham, Bean Supper

The Andover Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a ham and bean supper with homemade pies for dessert on Saturday, Sept. 7, with continuous servings from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at 7 High St., Andover.

Tickets will be sold at the door, or may be purchased in advance by contacting Mrs. Mary Henshaw, 405 Johnson St., North Andover.

HOME-OWNER'S GUIDE TO DRIVEWAY SEALING

For people who want a good black-top sealer that won't wash away the first time it rains.

HOW MUCH YOU NEED

The amount you use to seal your driveway will vary. The first time you seal it, the driveway will use a lot more than in later years just because it's dried out and absorbs more. Driveway sealer should be applied one coat at a time. Optimum coverage is approximately 1½ to 2 gal. per 100 sq. ft. Naturally, these figures depend a great deal on how well you follow the instructions on the back of the can and what condition your driveway is in.

THE PRICE YOU PAY

One thing pretty much determines the cost of driveway sealer — the ingredients that go into the can. First there is the asphalt base. This type of sealer is usually the lower cost sealer, but this year with the petroleum shortage it has increased substantially and now comes close in price to the other sealers. Asphalt sealers will give your driveway a shiny new look and it will seal out water and keep the driveway from cracking up due to ice. But it won't last at all if gasoline or oil drips on it. In fact, it dissolves right away.

The other kind of sealer is coal tar. This type of sealer can be made from two different types of coal tar. It's adequate to say that one is simply better than the other and only a trained chemist can tell the difference. The cheaper one can lose up to 25% of its weight when subjected to gasoline. The better one loses nothing. You'll just have to trust the manufacturer and or the company you buy it from that you're getting the better sealer.

The Nitty Gritty of driveway Sealer

If you've read this far, you've probably decided to buy a coal tar sealer. (GOOD!) Beware of a sealer that has inadequate directions on the back of the can. If you have any questions, ask the sales person you are buying it from. It's unfortunate, but true, that many sales people selling driveway sealer know less than the customer buying it. (Not at JACKSON LUMBER. Our people know the answers, and, if they don't know, they know who to ask.)

One thing even the best sealer in the world won't do is hold a badly deteriorated driveway together. So, if your driveway has gone too far, you'll have to repair it first. No driveway sealer will last indefinitely. You should reseal your driveway every year or at least every two years. You may even get to enjoy the job, knowing you are saving money by doing it yourself and keeping your driveway in "like new condition."

The Regan Case

The school committee members bungled the whole thing by acting in the manner in which they did. It could have been handled in a much more democratic manner and openly.

Regardless of the outcome of the cases before the court, Mr. Regan will not win reinstatement as an assistant superintendent.

Soundness and philosophy behind the reasons for Mr. Regan's dismissal notwithstanding, the school committee members are within their rights to remove a person not on tenure, from office. This, even if the public is not receptive to the reasoning.

If the intent was to get at Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent, then the school committee members should forget it. He holds tenure and is determined to remain at the helm of Andover's educational system.

Further, he has stated he is prepared to work with the committee, recognizing, apparently a difference in educational philosophy.

With these thoughts, it seems reasonable to presume that quite possibly the school department is due a period of a little working together, with the ultimate goal the education of Andover's young people.

Recognizing that the boss may not always be right, but he's still the boss, might be an appropriate guideline. Differing philosophies are here in the school system for at least another three years, according to elective terms of some incumbents.

Thus it seems little sense in prolonging disputes or decisions, but more an effort toward working together would be in order.

The Primary

For a variety of reasons, the state primary election has characteristically drawn but a semblance of interest from voters here and throughout the Commonwealth.

Next Tuesday, hopefully will be different, as the voting machinery has been eased to make it easy for voters to make a choice and still remain unenrolled, or independent, immediately after leaving the polling place. This, in the past has been one of the prime reasons for not exercising one's franchise on primary day - - the need to declare for one party or another.

What makes for additional interest this year, is the number of contests in both parties for offices at the county, representative level as well as state constitutional offices on both the Democrat and Republican ballots.

Pretty generally, in the past, the contests for nomination were left primarily to the Democrats, but the GOP ballot this year also has its contested races, from the Governor on down.

What makes the primary election important is the need to determine a solid party choice for the voters come November. This can only be accomplished through a good turnout on primary day.

Polling places will be accessible in all areas of town as usual and the hours accommodating enough to all.

This year, unlike the past, the opportunity to cast an absentee ballot is also made easier, thus removing another excuse from staying away from the polls on election day.

Application for an absentee ballot may be made up to noon the day before the election. In addition the ballot may be cast and presented to the town clerk for notarizing through noon of the day before the election.

It is anticipated that with the wide variety of contests

Please Be Cautious Precious Cargo Aboard

in both parties this year, there will be appeal for the independent voter to assist in the nomination of a particular candidate, and returning to the unenrolled status after casting the ballot.

With all things being eased to make the voter more comfortable in making a choice, we strongly urge attention be given to the primary on Tuesday in order to present clear and concise choice for state leadership come the election in November.

Off The Top Of The Desk

The Electric Company, trying valiantly to improve their image in these fuel adjustment, etc. times, just came up with what has to be an excellent case of rotten timing.

With the bill received by some this month, is a card which, if returned to the company, will result in literature being forwarded on how you can efficiently and economically run your air conditioner.

Based on this type of timing we can expect guidelines toward conserving on our winter heating bill about next July or August.

Based on our pessimistic view of the Red Sox early in the season, we can not now be any more than gratified by the way the team has come through this season.

No doubt there are those who foresee doom to the club's pennant hopes after the past disastrous weekend, but the season still has along way to go and the trip back to friendly Fenway may do a lot to boost the club.

For those who saw the end of the season in last Monday's doubleheader loss to Baltimore, might we suggest that both games were excellent, despite the outcome. The real tough losses came in Minnesota when the Sox blew two games back to back.

As the school buses begin to roll again and we view the lettering which reads Andover or North Andover Public schools on the side, don't you kind of wish you had the contract to letter the Voke school buses.

Getting Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School on the two sides of the buses must leave the students in painting at the River Road institution as candidates for the honor roll

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago September, 1899

There was a fine holiday crowd at Haggetts Pond Labor Day, many Free Church people among them. A cricket game was played between teams captained by Miss Alice Coutts and Miss Cecelia Kydd. The latter team won 49 to 42. Many of those in the grove enjoyed dancing in the early evening hours.

In order to meet the new requirements of the law, the doors of the Stowe school have been rehung so that they now swing outward, instead of in as formerly.

Antoine B. Saunders and his father John Saunders have gone to Halifax, N.S. The former is playing fine cricket for the Massachusetts team against the provincial clubs.

Mrs. C.A. Shattuck has removed from the Chickering house on Essex Street to the Chapman house on Bartlet Street. The house was formerly owned by Deacon Towne and faced Main Street. Recently it was moved to Bartlet Street and remodeled.

The section of Boston and Maine railroad bed through Andover has recently been oiled. The entire roadbed will be so treated as a preventive measure for dust.

50 Years Ago - September, 1924

The K. of C. carnival opened this week at the Playstead with large crowds enjoying the activity of the various booths and the youngsters having a fine time.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

I deeply regret your continued negative attitude on the continuation of the train to Boston. Doubtlessly you are aware the Environmental Protection Agency's proposal to limit parking spaces in Boston; the possible 10 cent federal tax increase on a gallon of gas and other proposals aimed at limiting the use of automobiles. It seems to me in view of such proposals your posture is out of step with reality. I particularly object to the mathematics illustrated in your editorial. Suggesting that only 100 or so citizens of Andover use the train is totally misleading. The fact of the matter is many more than 100 citizens use the train. Many take the train only a few times a week and others even less frequently. Thus, my guess would be that 200 to 300 people use the train at various times during the year. Moreover, if the TOWNSMAN were to try to cost justify every town service, my suggestion is that many services would not fare well measured on this basis. The train is an essential service and it is important that all of us adopt a broader prospective than trying to cost justify essential services.

You suggested in your editorial that the train riders can alternatively take the commuter bus. If you were to look into the bus service you would find that they are crowded presently and further you would learn that the bus delivers passengers to the opposite side of town from the train.

You should be calling for improved train service rather than discontinuance of the existing train service!

Committee Meets

The Andover Recreation/Community Schools Committee will meet Tuesday, Sept. 10 at 7:45 p.m. in the conference room of town hall. The agenda will include discussion of the Doyle property development proposal, bylaws, fall program outline, and committee planning and evaluation.

What's To Eat

Sloppy Joes and pizza are pretty popular school menu items, but maybe a peanut butter and jelly sandwich might be better next Wednesday when the fare doesn't appeal to young appetite. He'll be sure of proper nourishment if you follow the school menus published every Thursday in the TOWNSMAN.

At home in North Andover, are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Joseph Devan, who were married August 3 in Epping, N.H.

The bride is the former Sharon Mildred Lavoie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene O. Lavoie of Epping, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Devan, 4 Pembroke Road, North Andover.

The Rev. James Keefe officiated at the 11 a.m. service in St. Joseph's Church, which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli. James Richards was the soloist and Mrs. Joseph Jean the organist, while Bruce Douglas provided music on the Irish bagpipes.

Given in marriage by her father, the new Mrs. Devan wore a gown of organza, with portrait neckline and Empire waist. Re-embroidered lace appliques with sequins accented the long, tapered sleeves and A-line skirt.

A full chapel-length train of organza was also accented with appliques, and her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of petal leals.

Joan Lavoie of Salem, N.H., was maid of honor, wearing a yellow polyester gown with Empire waist and trimmed in white Venetian lace.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Denyou of Blythville, Ark., Mrs. Jack Lavoie of Epping, and Mrs. Charles Frizzle of Brunswick, Maine, wore matching gowns of lime green. They all carried colonial bouquets.

Flower girl Maureen Denyou of Blythville, Ark., wore a gown of yellow dotted Swiss with lace collar, and carried a basket of yellow daisies, pink and white carnations and baby's breath.

Raymond Devan of North Andover was best man, and ushers were Martin Killourie of Methuen, Gerald Rooney of Arlington and Carl Kellerer of Lawrence.

the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Fitzpatrick, 100 Colgate Drive, North Andover.

Rev. Frederick Minnigan performed the 6:30 p.m. ceremony at St. Michael's Church, North Andover. A reception followed at the Indian Ridge Country Club, Andover.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Harold Wennik, the bride wore a gown of white nylon organza with portrait neckline and double caplet sleeves. The empire bodice was outlined in Venice lace and trimmed with white satin ribbon and streamers. Her cathedral veil of blush draped from a large white picture hat trimmed with white Venice lace florets. She carried a large white glamilia with green ivy.

Elyse C. Massicotte of North Andover was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Cheryl Bevans of Lawrence, Deane FitzPatrick of North Andover, Nancy Murphy of North Andover, Denise Burke of Lawrence, Mrs. Thomas Vaughn of Reading, Mrs. William Burns of Lowell, Mrs. Richard Monynihan of Amherst and Mrs. Timothy Cagle of Methuen.

Flower girls were Robin McHendry of Andover and Kate FitzPatrick of North Andover.

William FitzPatrick served as best man, and ushers were Harvey Ludham of Millville, N.J., James Casey of Philadelphia, Pa., Joseph O'Sullivan of Southborough, William Ellis, III of Newton, Duncan Touninga of New Paltz, N.Y., George FitzPatrick of North Andover, Frederick Stewart of North Andover, and Harry Wilkinson of Wilmington.

A graduate of North Andover High School and Lowell State College, the new Mrs. FitzPatrick is a candidate for a master's degree in guidance at Fitchburg State College. She is a

'Project Help' Benefit To Be Sept. 27

The annual "Dance for Danvers," to assist Project HELP, is scheduled for Sept. 27 at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn in Andover, according to Mrs. James O'Shea, president.

The purpose of Project HELP, is to prepare the Greater Lawrence community for the phasing out of the Danvers State hospital. This means the return of many area patients to their own communities. The organization is an ally in the community of the Lawrence unit at Danvers State hospital and of the new Day Treatment Center for adults at 232 Essex St., Lawrence. The new center in Lawrence is set up to provide assistance and support for Lawrence area former and potential patients.

In the past few years, funds received from the Project Help "Dance For Danvers," has provided for new office equipment at the center and the assembling of furniture and appliances needed for a modern kitchen where patients with the aid of staff and volunteers can prepare meals and dine.

Mrs. Rudolph Muto and her committee, including Mrs. James O'Hara, Mrs. Thomas J. Thomas, Mrs. Jerold L. Winer, Mrs. Douglas Allan and Mrs. Robert Lennon are in charge of preparations for the Sept. 27 event.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward T. McAllister

McAllister - Romeo

Margaret Romeo, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Romeo, 28 Summer St., Andover, became the bride August 17, of Ward Thomas McAllister of Milford, N.H. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Martin of Milford, N.H.

The Rev. Michael F. DiGregorio of Andover performed the 11 a.m. ceremony at St. Joseph's Church, Ballardvale. Richard Romeo, the bride's brother, provided vocal music, accompanied by Daniel Miner on the guitar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of melon crepe, with the empire waist encircled with old-fashioned lace. Her lace veil had been worn by her maternal great grandmother, and she carried a cloud bouquet of white baby's breath and yellow daisies.

Patricia Morin of Andover was maid of honor, wearing a pastel blue gown flocked with daisies, and carrying a cloud bouquet of white daisies and blue baby's breath.

Bridesmaids Nancy Thompson of Andover and Marilou Webber of Dorchester, wore matching green and yellow gowns. They carried cloud bouquets of white daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's niece, Heather Harrison of Lawrence, was flower girl, wearing a pink gown flocked with daisies and carrying a basket of daisies and baby's breath.

Michael Bettencourt of New Bedford was best man, and ushers were Jack Felton of

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Harnden

Harnden - Sweeney

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Harnden were married August 10 at St. Augustine's Church, Lawrence.

The bride is the former Carol Ann Sweeney, daughter of Mrs. Charles Sweeney of Methuen, and the late Mr. Sweeney, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph O. Harnden, 57 Andover St., Andover.

The Rev. William Waters, O.S.A., performed the 6 p.m. ceremony, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Addie Reader, was soloist. A reception followed at the Andover Country Club.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Edward M. Moore, the bride wore a princess-style gown of silk organza, with applique accents. Her headpiece was a camelot cap with a four-tier veil of silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Paula Stramondo of Methuen served as maid of honor, wearing an empire-style gown of mint green, with a flowered, dotted Swiss overlay. Bridesmaids Mary and Marjorie Harnden of Andover, and Justine Dobeck of Lawrence, wore matching gowns in pink, and picture hats. They carried straw baskets of poms, carnations and baby's breath.

Thomas Neve of Lawrence was best man, and ushers were Gary Cole and Joseph Santarlasci of Andover, and William Tierney of Methuen.

Mrs. Sweeney chose a yellow chiffon gown with empire waist and white lace appliques, for her daughter's wedding, and a corsage of white stephanotis and baby's breath. The groom's mother wore mint green chiffon, with empire waist and beaded trim. Her corsage also was white stephanotis and baby's breath.

The new Mrs. Harnden graduated from St. Mary's High School in Lawrence and Graham Junior College, Boston. She is secretary to the personnel officer at Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford. Her husband, a graduate of Andover High, attended Wentworth Institute, and Northern Essex Community College, and is presently a junior at Lowell Tech.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda and Nantucket, the couple is making their home in Lawrence.

Celebrities Scheduled For Merrimack Series

The Ladies of Merrimack are really not "Name Droppers," but they do know celebrities, know how to approach them and sign them up for their popular "Mornings of Diversion." Blue sealed white announcements over 700 in all, have been sent to all members and friends.

The second annual "Mornings of Diversion" -- three in all on Wednesdays, following the same format as last year, at McQuade Library on the college campus in North Andover -- begin Oct. 9.

The first celebrity will be George Plimpton. His topic "An Amateur Among the Pros." He is a man with endless curiosity, unshakable enthusiasm and nerve, with a compulsive need to attempt everything exciting and daring at least once in his life. It is this quality which will come through strongest when Plimpton, who single-handedly seems to have restored the role of the gifted amateur in an age of over-specialization speaks.

The Oct. 23 celebrity Catherine Lanham Miller, a professional writer, will reveal some answers to "What am I going to do with the rest of my life." In her talks, as well as her writing, she has the unique capability of imparting to her public the same enthusiasm that helped her remold her own life. Every woman coming away from her lectures feels rejuvenated and excited about the limitless potentialities for re-making her own life.

An internationally recognized authority on art and antiques Lawrence Gichner contends "There may be dull people but there is no such thing as a dull item of collection." The infectious fun of collecting will be vividly brought home to the members of his audience when he speaks to them on Nov. 6.

Bouillon will be served at 10:15, the lectures will begin at 11. For the after-lecture luncheons, which will be held at the Lanam Club reservations are limited and must be made in advance.

Mrs. David L. Morton and Mrs. Richard P. McCoy are co-chairmen of the lecture series. Tickets are available by calling Merrimack College or the following committee members: Mrs. Vincent P. Morton, Mrs. Charles McCarthy, Mrs. John T. Daley, Mrs. John T. Batal, Mrs. William Callahan and Mrs. Rose DiPaolo.

Registration At Lowell Tech Begins

Some 3000 residents of the Merrimack Valley will register at Lowell Technological Institute next week for any of 200 courses offered by the L.T.I. Evening School.

The Continuing Education program on the 80 acre campus offers courses ranging from how to earn a private pilot's license, to nationally accredited Associate and Baccalaureate studies.

Begun in 1897, the Lowell Tech Evening School has seen a dramatic growth of academic offerings, and in the last 10 years has tripled, according to L.T.I. President Everett V. Olsen.

The burgeoning interest in continuing education has seen a wide use of the College Level Equivalency Program (CLEP) which allows college credits based on general knowledge, particularly for those who have been away from school and wish to return part-time. Lowell Tech is an official CLEP testing center, and the closest one outside of the Boston area.

Besides an open enrollment policy, L.T.I. offers the "best bargain" for continuing education students with a tuition charge of $10 per credit hour.

Registration for the L.T.I. Evening School will be held Sept. 5 - 9 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at Cumnock Hall on the Lowell Tech campus. Counseling is available throughout the year, as well as CLEP information and a bulletin of course offerings for the Fall and Spring semesters by contacting the L.T.I. Evening School, Lowell, 01854.

Retired Persons Meet Monday

The regular meeting of Greater Lowell Chapter No. 730 of the A.A.R.P. will be held at the Smith-Baker Center, 400 Merrimack St., Lowell at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 9. Armand P. Mercier, Executive Director of the Lowell Housing Authority, will be guest speaker. Business meeting will follow. Refreshments will be served.

Vehicle Inspection Time Here

Registrar David J. Lucey reminds drivers that the Fall Inspection period begins September one and ends October 15. "Now is the time to have repairs made so that when you present your motor vehicle for inspection it will pass the first time."

4400 official inspection stations located throughout the state are ready to inspect motor vehicles and trailers under the supervision of the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Before you take your car in, check the registration number with your registration plates to see if they match. If they do not match, go to a Registry office to have a correction made. Also, check the vehicle identification number on your registration certificate with the vehicle identification number which is on the vehicle to see if they match. If they do not match, go to your insurance company or agent for corrections.

The registration certificate must be presented before an inspection will be made and all information must be correct.

The fee for a motor vehicle inspection is still $1. (A $2 fee for inspection of motor vehicles will become effective Jan. 1, 1975.) The fee for inspection of a trailer alone is still 50 cents.

Items to be checked include: brakes, stop lights, lights, horn, exhaust system, steering gear, windshield, windshield cleaners, number plates, rear windows, tires, fenders, bumpers, external sheet metal, reflectors, splash guards and chock blocks and pollution control systems or devices.

Vehicles passing inspection will have an official red sticker printed in black placed on the windshield by an adjuster after it passes inspection. Motor vehicles failing to pass inspection will be marked with a round rejection sticker.

Quarter Admission At Museum

The Great Twenty-Five Cent Adventure awaits college students at Boston's Museum of Science every Friday night between Sept. 6 and Oct. 4.

After 5 p.m. on those evenings, a college student with an ID and a single quarter can come face-to-face with a two-story-tall Tyrannosaurus rex; see himself in a different light in the Color Around Us exhibition; watch a chick peck out of its shell; test his voice and hearing at the Intelligent Ear; challenge a computer to a game of bridge; and enjoy dozens of other Museum exhibits and demonstrations.

He or she may also attend one of the scheduled Friday-night programs, at no additional charge. In September these include an Endangered Species presentation with films, displays, and talks (Sept. 6); a police dog demonstration (Sept. 13); a program on mushrooms by the Boston Mycological Club (Sept. 20); and a Flash Gordon science fiction film (Sept. 27). A second science fiction film, on mutant ants, will be given Oct. 4 -- when the 25¢ college student rate still applies.

The Museum is on the MBTA Green Line's Lechmere car route at the Science Park stop.

HOLIDAY EXODUS. The homeward bound traffic on Route 93 got underway early Monday afternoon, due to the inclement holiday weather. A steady stream of traffic moved over the two major expressways, Routes 495 and 93, without major incident over the Labor Day weekend.

Construction of one or more oil refineries in New England and an acceleration of the construction of nuclear power plants were called for by Dr. James M. Howell, vice president and chief economist of The First National Bank of Boston in testimony before the Federal Energy Office hearings in Faneuil Hall.

The hearings conducted by FEO were designed to produce expert testimony on "Project Independence" - a Federal program designed to make the United States independent of outside energy sources by the early 1980s.

"The point that is so important to keep in mind," Dr. Howell said, "is that a 'do nothing' policy at this time will only mean that many New England manufacturing firms will be forced to absorb cost increases from the higher energy costs that could drive them close to a financial crisis stage." He called for active support by all Federal agencies of the construction of refineries and a speeding up of the approval process for the construction of nuclear plants.

Howell distributed the results of the First's special report on the impact of higher energy costs on the New England economy which showed, among other items:

1. The median increase in energy costs from the summer of 1973 to spring of 1974 amounted to 34 per cent.

2. Total manufacturing costs in New England have risen at an annual rate of 2.2 per cent as a result of higher energy costs alone.

3. Despite these higher costs the vast majority of the region's manufacturing firms (89 per cent) continue to anticipate either no change or an increase in capital spending in 1974.

4. While only six firms of the 255 surveyed indicated a cutback in production in New England unless the Federal government takes steps to equalize energy costs, there could be an acceleration of out-migration of New England firms.

5. Generalizing the impact of these potential production cutbacks implies an increase in the region's unemployed by 18,200 people.

"The picture is not all gloom and doom," Howell said, "but failure of FEO and other Federal agencies to undertake the short-term solution of distributing residual oil in particular on a cost-balanced basis to the New England area would increase our unemployment problem substantially. The long run solution is the help of the Federal government in accelerating construction of nuclear power plants that have so recently been declared clearly safe by a two-year study conducted at MIT by Prof. Norman C. Rasmussen.

"The question before these hearings," Dr. Howell concluded, "is how to make the United States and New England independent of outside energy sources; my solution envisions heavy reliance of nuclear power through which New England could become a far less energy-cost sensitive region. With refineries and nuclear power we stand on the threshold to accomplish this end, but we must start down the path today."

Museum Launches Fall Programs

At Boston's Museum of Science, the arrival of mild autumn days signals the beginning of a whole new array of programs for all ages.

From September until June, the Museum offers a different evening program every Friday at no charge above half price Museum admission (after 5 p.m.). Early fall Fridays are an especially good time for college students to visit the Museum, as they are admitted for only 25¢ on Friday nights (5 p.m.-10 p.m.) between September 6 and October 4.

This season's schedule begins September 6 with an evening devoted to endangered wildlife, part of a special Endangered Species Weekend slated to run through Sunday, September 8.

Plans for this in-depth look at the plight of many of our most interesting and valuable forms of wildlife include topnotch films, a slide show, live presentations, and related exhibits and demonstrations. Emphasis will be on what every individual can do to help relieve the current problems.

On Friday evening, September 13, Museum visitors will have a chance to study the training and performance demanded of dogs used in police work. Demonstrations of the dogs' abilities point up the absolute necessity of both obedience and intelligence. The program is being presented by the Hanover Police Department.

Attention will shift from the animal kingdom to the botanical world on September 20, when the Boston Mycological Club holds an open evening meeting at the Science Museum. Related exhibits of mushrooms from the Museum's collections will underscore the program's emphasis.

The last Friday in September will feature the first of a two-evening series of science fiction films. The Flash Gordon classic, "The Purple Death from Outer Space," will be shown September 27 followed by "Them," the story of mutant ants, on October 4.

Other special attractions scheduled during September include "To Catch a Rhino," a free film shown twice daily through September 12; "The Stars of Fall," presented daily in the Charles Hayden Planetarium from September 16 to 30; a temporary exhibition, "The Intelligent Ear," featuring a variety of visitor-operated components on sound and hearing; an extension, by popular demand, of "Color Around Us," an exhibition illustrating the importance of color in every aspect of our lives.

The Museum is located on the MBTA Lechmere route of the Green Line, at Science Park.

Museum Receives Grant

Merrimack Valley Textile Museum, North Andover, has been awarded a $5,000 grant from the Massachusetts Council on Arts and Humanities.

The funds will be applied toward a cloth making instruction program, a two-part education program designed to integrate classroom and gallery instruction in early New England production.

Vernon R. Alden, Chairman of the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities, has announced that 145 arts and humanities organizations throughout the state will receive $872,486 under the Council's Financial Assistance Program for projects occurring between July 1, and June 30, 1975. Under this program 5 organizations in Northeastern Massachusetts are slated to receive $11,100. Northeastern Massachusetts includes towns in Middlesex and Essex counties which lie outside of Metropolitan Boston.

The Council on the Arts and Humanities, a state agency, funds programs for cultural organizations, communities, artists and schools throughout the Commonwealth.

New Laws Protect Environment

"The state of the environment should be improved after the 1974 Legislative Session," said Michael Ventresca, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Forest and Park Association, a 76-year-old environmental lobbying group.

In the wrap-up issue of the MEPA's Conservation Legislative Bulletin, Ventresca pointed out about ten new laws, all classified as important, among which are:

- A new wetland protection bill aimed at preserving and protecting our wetlands.

- A Land Use bill passed for the Island of Martha's Vineyard, and also a related bill passed for the Berkshires. "Both bills," Ventresca stated, "indicate the state's commitment toward land use."

- Environmental reorganization which will streamline agencies and should provide both better planned and implemented programs aimed at enhancing the environment.

- Open Budget bill filed by Representative Joseph Early, which will allow groups such as environmental groups to influence the shape and amount of money requested and given to different state programs.

- Continued commitment to a balanced transportation policy.

Mr. Ventresca stated that: "Very few bills passed which our group opposed, and those which did pass over MEPA opposition were substantially modified. Most notable in this category was the amendment to the Environmental Policy Act and a bill aimed at granting variances to burn high sulphur coal."

SUPPORT. Governor Francis W. Sargent extends his hand in full support to John Neunzer of Andover, poster child of the Greater Boston Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America after proclaiming Monday, Sept. 2 as Jerry Lewis Telethon Day in Massachusetts. Also present representing the Association is Norman Veenstra, founder and executive committee member of the Greater Boston Chapter.

Offers Course

In response to the interests in investing in gold coins and others as a hedge against inflation the Division of Continuing Education and Community Services at North Shore Community College, Beverly is offering during the Fall 1974 Semester a course entitled Basic Coin Collecting.

The course taught by George Maroskos, a Lynn resident, is an introduction to the person who wishes to be able to evaluate types of U. S. and foreign Numismatic items. This course will develop both academic and practical uses for the grading and cataloging of copper, silver, gold, off metals, patterns, paper, errors, and medals. The course will also develop a basic expertise in the detection of counterfeit and altered coins. The course is offered on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. For further information on registration dates call 927-4850.

Environmental Workshop

A workshop of environmental concerns sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service will be conducted at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. Classes will meet on 12 Tuesday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 10.

The workshop will provide a historical, ecological and scientific background of Essex County. Subject matter includes the major habitats occupied and utilized by man and the environmental problems associated with them, plus methods of dealing with these problems.

People looking for a refresher course in environmental matters for purposes of teaching, conservation work, land use planning, or environmental action would benefit from a variety of qualified speakers representing several colleges, federal and state agencies, and private environmental organizations.

Besides the Tuesday sessions there are four Saturday field trips to Plum Island, Boston Harbor, Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary and the Western Electric wastewater treatment plant in North Andover.

Persons interested in enrolling or obtaining further information should call Ralph Gooden, Resource Development Specialist, at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Andover School Bus Code

With the advent of another school year parents are urged to instruct their children on the contents of the Andover School Bus Code as adopted by the Andover School Committee.

Students who violate this code, violate the rights of other students on the bus and possibly subject these students to undue safety hazards. Everyone shares equally in the responsibility of maintaining proper discipline and safety on the school buses. In order to establish proper standards of behavior and to provide a safe and enjoyable ride for every student transported, this bus code is published so that every parent may have an opportunity to contribute to this goal.

Students

1. Only authorized students may ride the bus.
2. Obey the driver in all matters pertaining to the operation of the school bus. The bus driver is the representative of parents and teachers and is directly responsible for the safety of each student on his bus.
3. Exercise courtesy towards others while loading, riding and leaving the bus. Application of this simple rule will result in a more enjoyable ride to school each day and will prevent many unpleasant situations from arising.
4. Arrive at the bus stop on time and wait for the bus on the curb or shoulder off the road.
5. Cross highways and streets only in front of the bus. Move away from the front bumper of the bus approximately 6-8 feet so the bus driver can observe your crossing. Do not run or dash into street or roads without looking both ways even though the bus driver has traffic stopped.
6. Avoid trespassing on private property and being noisy.

7. Board the bus in an orderly manner when the bus has come to a full stop and the driver has opened the door.

8. Take your seat promptly and if you must stand, grasp a seat bar firmly.

9. Assignment of seats is left to the discretion of the bus driver and/or school authorities. However, if seat assignments are made compliance is mandatory.

10. Remain seated until the bus comes to a full stop, then leave in an orderly manner.

11. Allow standees off first once the school bus has come to a full stop.

12. Do Not Talk to the driver while the bus is in motion.

13. Avoid actions that might distract the driver and result in a serious accident.

14. Keep your voice low, no shouting, whistling, rough housing, pushing, fighting or throwing objects.

15. Do not extend arms or any other parts of your body out the windows. Do not throw any objects or spit out the bus windows.

16. Do not smoke on the bus.

17. Ask the driver's permission before opening the windows.

18. Help keep the bus clean and report anything damaged in the bus to the driver. Do not eat or chew gum on the bus.

19. Keep books/bundles out of the aisles and do not carry heavy objects on the bus that might cause injury to other students. If you carry small animals on the bus for school projects, you are responsible for their containment while en route to and from school.

20. Ride your assigned bus and do not ask the driver to make unauthorized stops unless written permission is received from your parent and agreement is reached between the principal and bus driver.

21. Report any violation of these rules to your bus proctor, the bus driver or your teacher.

22. Violation of the above rules may result in suspension of your bus riding privilege.

Accident Procedure

1. Keep calm and follow the directions of the bus driver. Stay in your seat until the bus driver tells you what action to take.

A. Do not touch any emergency equipment until told by the driver.

B. In case of fire, leave the bus in an orderly manner and move to the nearest exit away from the fire.

2. If the driver is injured and unable to move, notify the nearest adult or contact the police or fire department on the nearest phone.

3. Report any injuries to yourself or other students to the driver.

Parents

1. Instruct children on the content of the bus code.

2. Support the bus driver in maintaining discipline on the bus.

3. Ensure children arrive at the bus stop on time.

A. Supervise children at bus stops when necessary.

4. Make suggestions in writing to the Office of Business Services to improve the bus routes.

Toll Free Telephone For Vets

Congressman Paul W. Cronin has announced that the Veteran's Administration will extend its toll-free telephone service to all veterans in Massachusetts.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 9, all veterans in the state will be able to reach the regional veterans office in Boston by dialing: 800-392-6015. This toll-free number has been instituted by the VA to facilitate its work with veterans from all over Massachusetts.

Cronin said that in the Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill areas, special telephone numbers have been designated to connect all veterans' calls to the Boston office. On Sept. 9 the number to call in the Lowell area will be: 453-5643; in the Lawrence area, 687-3332; and in the Haverhill area: 374-4721.

"This new toll-free service represents an effort by Richard Roubush, the new Director of the VA, to increase the efficiency and responsiveness of the Federal government to the problems of veterans all over Massachusetts."

Elfriede's Beauty Shoppe For Very Special Beauty Care

Ladies, now that the summer is over and it's "back to business" it is also time to get your hair in shape for a busy fall and winter ahead. Perhaps it needs cutting, shaping, restyling, coloring, a perm - whatever your needs, Elfriede's Beauty Shoppe, 200 Osgood Street in North Andover, can serve you.

This friendly beauty shop has been in business in North Andover for 18 years (14 years at this location) serving the beauty needs of residents of this area. Elfriede T. Berthel, owner and operator, is experienced in all phases of beauty care and her staff is eager to answer your every beauty wish: Ann Henry (who has been with Elfriede for six years); Peggy Rabbito; Anna Weinstein; and Dennis Martin (shown above).

Elfriede's Beauty Shoppe specializes in hair coloring and perms. Wella Color is used and it is an ESKA franchised shop for perms. Perfect Touch perms are also used - either producing a natural looking wave in a regular perm or body perm. And at the present time, Elfriede's is introducing the No Rod Just Roller perm. This is brand new, a real BODY perm!

If you are looking for perfection in a cut, call Elfriede's for an appointment with George, formerly of Mr. Kenneth's in New York. He is at Elfriede's twice a week, Mondays and Wednesdays, specializing in blow cutting. Your appointment with George is an exclusive appointment, reserved for you and you alone, giving his undivided attention to your cut.

Call Elfriede's Beauty Shoppe soon and get acquainted. 200 Osgood Street, North Andover. Telephone 683-2279. Closed Mondays, but open Tuesday and Thursday evenings for your convenience.

Reflections On A Salad

By William Jerome
Has it ever struck you my friend to inquire into the contents of the monster salad you are served at your favorite Highway Restaurant?

I mean if you are analytical by nature. Or even curious.

Just take from the "training table" the task of calorie counting.

It's before you now. It's a monster salad. No doubt about it. But you've already ordered the "Ribs" for yourself, the wife, Junior, your brother-in-law and the stuffed shrimp for Judy and the schrod for Grandma. Now the cocktail has been downed, everyone has read his saying from the cocktail napkin. NaNa blushed a little. Hers had a daring picture. But back to the first course. Or is it the course that does you in. Will all talking stop as hands and hearts concentrate on the bowl before each diner. Speaking of the bowl. Short, wide, not from a potter, no it's melmac, like the kind at Edith's house party last fall. Strangely it looks like the neighbor's Dalmatian's dinner bowl. And come to think of it they did have a back-yard auction. Do you suppose -- oh, no . . . you cast that idea from your head and poise yourself for the event.

Each mighty salad is a concoction of every green from Salinas county. What is the total. Would Luther Burbank know? How many workers labored to pick the greens now sodden under a varie-

HOW WAS YOUR SUMMER, seems to be the first day greeting at the Thomson school, North Andover as Julie Kelley and Cheryl Whittaker, doff their coats like real troopers to the educational process, as they prepare to tackle the books for another year.

ty of sauces: French, Russian, The House Special, Italian and Roquefort. Only a camel could eat that salad dry. It takes gobs and gobs, (usually ladled by a heavy-set, serious waitress.)

One family I know plays a game -- count the ingredients. lettuce, of course, as a base. Then endive, chicory, beet greens, cabbage, celery, some decorative parsley and more vegetation. All, with approval of the Food and Drug Administration.

But it is time to dip into this triple whammy course - the Monster salad. It's rabbit time. No talking. Menus are gathered. One automatically begins to think of the dessert course: will it be apple pie, apple pan dowdy, peach melba, Indian pudding, sherbert or diet conscious jello?

While the mind may wander all muscle control is taken up with the taking up of the salad. This very, very American custom - the Monster salad. It's marathon time. No one speaks. No one dares. The Musak fills the room. Other newcomers are dazzled by the menu. Nearby, a loquacious child says, "Look, all those people bent over eating grass!" NaNa smiles at the youngster. He is hauled in by his Mother to the cavernous booth.

Ten minutes have elapsed. The salad goes on. The Musak has now played eight tunes. Sunlight is dancing off the artificial amber and red window booth dividers. Each family is ensconced in its eating pit. No chance, Hawaiian style, of passing a giant leaf with a portion on top. Each must Dalmatian like -- pursue the course before him or her. Like Monopoly -- one must get a "Go." And that only comes from completion of the Salinas goodies. And the sauce -- somehow, one begins to miss the aroma. Seems to be corn-starchy. It's wet though and that's an asset. The Roquefort odor is strangely like Judy's paste and see" Girl Scout booklet. Same texture. Strange. Much time has now elapsed. Surely, at home we'd be in the living room watching Lawrence Welk. But this is our "fun." And our ethic says, "We must eat it."

Towards the end -- and who could really tell the diameter of those bowls? Like Con-Edison man-hole covers -- that wide, honest.

Finally, the last dip of the soft roll and the final swallow.

Out of nowhere, Ms. Efficiency - the waitress - followed by the bus-boy and the four orders of "Ribs," Judy's stuffed shrimp and NaNa's scrod arrive.

Mamma takes over. Daddy may be the host - but intuitively, Our Lady of the house knows, senses, the mood and moment, she nudges Dad -- he gets the signal, winces a bit, is hesitant, then gives his Lodge smile and says, "Thank you all, Mam', dear good waitress -- but may we have six Doggie Bags? -- we are just "done in" with the Monster salad -- and besides we know a nice 'Dalmatian'."

PUBLIC NOTICE NUMBER: MA-32-75

PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD: September 9, 1974 - October 9, 1974.

APPLICANT INFORMATION (1) APPLICANT NAME: Vogue Silver Company, MAILING ADDRESS: John Street, Lowell, Massachusetts, APPLICATION NUMBERS: 07Y0003000083, MA0003549, State Application No.: 95, SIC CODE: 3471.

This facility is engaged in the manufacture of stainless steel hardware. The application pertains to one existing discharge, (average flow is 3,000 gpd), consisting of process wastewater - no electropolishing at this facility - to the Merrimack River, a Class C watercourse, at Lowell, Massachusetts. The proposed permit requires the applicant to tie-in to municipal sewer system by June 30, 1977 or within 30 days of availability of sewer, whichever is sooner. This permit will expire five years from the date of issuance.

(2) APPLICANT NAME: Western Electric Company, Incorporated, MAILING ADDRESS: 195 Broadway, New York, New York 10007, FACILITY ADDRESS: 1600 Osgood Street, North Andover, Massachusetts, APPLICATION NUMBERS: 07Y0002000672 FACT SHEET PREPARED MA0001261, State Application No.: 193, SIC CODE: 3470.

This facility is engaged in the manufacture of wire telephone and telegraph equipment. The application pertains to two existing discharges, (average flow is 1,055,000 gpd), consisting of sanitary and industrial treatment plant effluent and cooling tower blowdown to the Merrimack River, a Class C watercourse, at North Andover, Massachusetts. The proposed permit requires the applicant to conform to best applicable control technology for industrial wastewater by November 1, 1976, conform to best practicable control technology upon issuance for sanitary wastewater and limit phosphorus content of cooling tower blowdown. This permit will expire five years from the date of issuance.

TENTATIVE DETERMINATIONS

Tentative determinations regarding effluent limitations and other conditions to be imposed on the above NPDES permit(s) have been made by the Massachusetts Division of Water Pollution Control (DWPC) and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The limitations and conditions imposed will assure that State water quality standards and applicable State and Federal laws will be met.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Fact sheets (describing among other things, the location of the discharge; the present discharge in quantitative terms; proposed effluent limitations to be contained in the permit; applicable effluent and water quality standards; and, procedures governing public participation in the formulation of final determinations) may be obtained at no cost by writing or calling the EPA. (Fact sheets are normally compiled only if the discharge has a total volume of more than 500,000 gallons on any day of the year.) The complete application, proposed permit and other information are on file and may be inspected at the DWPC or EPA.

Boston offices. Copies, obtained by calling (617)223-5061, will be made at a cost of 20¢ per page from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. PUBLIC COMMENTS/PUBLIC HEARINGS

Public comments on the proposed permit are invited and should be submitted in writing prior to October 9, 1974 to either the DWPC or EPA, Boston offices, at listed addresses above. Prior to such date, any person may submit a request in writing to these offices for an informal public hearing to consider the proposed permit. A hearing will be held only if the response to this notice indicates significant public interest. The application numbers should appear on the envelope and on the first page of any submitted comments. All comments received prior to the above date will be considered in the formulation of the final determinations.

Following the thirty (30) day comment period, determinations will be made by the Regional Administrator of the EPA and the Director of the DWPC with respect to each permit. Where determinations remain substantially unchanged from the tentative determinations and draft permit prepared, the Regional Administrator and Director will forward a copy of determinations to any person who has submitted written comments regarding the permit. Where determinations are substantially changed from the tentative determinations and proposed permit prepared, the Regional Administrator will provide public notice of such determinations, including a mailing to interested persons, as well as to those persons submitting written comments. Persons who feel that they may wish to request a formal adjudicatory hearing on the matter of the final permit determinations should file written comments during this thirty (30) day comment period.

Within ten (10) days of the date of receipt of the final determinations, any interested person may request an adjudicatory hearing of the Regional Administrator in accordance with the provisions of 40 C.F.R. ss125.36(b) and (c), 39 FR 27081. A similar request should also be filed with the Director within thirty (30) days of the date of receipt of the final determinations in accordance with the provisions of the Massachusetts Administrative Procedure Act and the Division's Rules for the Conduct of Adjudicatory Proceedings. CONGRATULATIONS. Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen congratulates Town Manager J. Maynard Austin on reappointment. The selectmen Monday night unanimously renewed Austin's contract for another three years.

cooperation of the town manager, all acting constructively in Andover's best interests.

"The board has voted to renew the town manager's appointment as of Sept. 2 (the anniversary of his appointment) for a period of three years, and the manager has accepted. We believe such a period is more appropriate to allow the selectmen, as a continuing body, to conduct its overview and to carry out a more appropriate review of the town manager's stewardship.

"Mr. Austin is to be commended for being the first incumbent town manager to have his contract renewed. We wish him the best and look forward to continued improvement in town operations."

Austin, in reply, said he was "delighted to be reappointed."

"My wife and I and two children have enjoyed Andover and are delighted at the opportunity to remain here."

The manager said he appreciated the board's thinking in terms of a five year contract.

Of his five year, the manager said he felt it important to mention the role of department heads, with whom he has worked.

"I feel Andover should be pleased with the quality of the department heads whose service is exemplary. The selectmen and managers, past and present have chosen well and through them, we have been able to accomplish the many things we have during the past five years," Austin commented.

Austin's new term, three years instead of five as has been the custom according to the maximum appointment permitted by the charter, runs through the expiration of the terms of all present members of the board of selectmen.

Prior managers have been Thomas E. Duff who was not reappointed and Richard J. Bowen, who said he would not be a candidate for reappointment. Both are in the managerial field, Duff in Barre, Vermont and Bowen in New York.

Down The Years
